Action Sought to Aid in Preservation of Historic Sites Here

"Do we want to bother to protect what, in appearance, makes Princeton PRINCETON?"

The question was addressed to Township Committee Monday night (and will be asked of Borough Council this Thursday) by Constance Greiff and other members of Princeton's Joint Historic Sites Commission. The Commission has a thick, detailed ordinance, modeled after New York City's, creating a Landmark Commission and setting up ways to preserve buildings, sites and districts in town that have not only historic value, but architectural and aesthetic importance as well.

As a start in identifying these places, the Commission would use a 1967 survey done by architectural historian William B. Bassett. It lists only 117 buildings, and would have to be expanded and updated, Commission member William Short told Committee, adding that "ideas about buildings change." But the philosophy of the survey and its inclusion of modest—indeed, often startling—buildings, is in line with the Commission's ideas.

If Borough and Township pass the ordinance, a Landmark Commission of eight, four from each municipality, would be named by governing bodies. This group would consult with the Planning Board and presumably with Mr. Basset's volume, and make its recommendations.

If you own a proposed landmark, you would be notified and given a public hearing before any final designation. If you don't like the idea of the designation, you can appeal to the governing body.

Once your property has "Landmark" status, you would need a "certificate of appropriateness" issued by the Commission, before you could remodel the exterior or tear the building down. The ordinance would apply to districts in the community or to sites, as well to buildings.

If the Commission and you don't agree about the "appropriateness" of your plans, there is a 90-day negotiating time. Plans could be worked out, Mrs. Greiff believes.

If there is still no agreement, the Landmark Commission could recommend that the municipality acquire a "protective interest" in the property, maybe through an easement. Or the municipality can acquire the property through purchase or condemnation.

The Historic Sites group also wants to make sure landmarks aren't allowed to deteriorate. Owners would be required to keep Landmarked sites in good repair. Township Committee member Elizabeth Hutter aksed if there would be money for this, and Robert Sellery, of the Sites Commission acknowledged that there wouldn't be any, but he said the property

Light Voter Turnout Produces No Surprises; School Budget Beaten, Gail Firestone Wins

The school budget was defeated Tuesday 853 to 796, and Gail Firestone won a second term on the school board.

It was the second year in a row for a budget defeat. The knock-out blow came from only 12.2 per cent of the electorate, the second-lowest turnout in recent history. The low was recorded two years ago, when only 8.5 per cent of the voters bothered to go to the polls.

"It doesn't seem like a mandate for big cuts by the municipal governments," observed school board president Winthrop Pike, pointing to the 57-vote spread between "yes" and "no" votes.

The board was scheduled to certify the defeated budget to Princeton's two governing bodies on Wednesday. They have 15 days to meet with the board and decide what to do. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley told his Tuesday press conference that Borough Council and Township Committee don't actually have to make any cuts at all if they don't want to. Nothing in state law requires it.

Dr. Firestone won her seat with 644 votes. The runner-up was Rosalind Frisch with 403. Kay Mack received 239. There was no contest in the Borough and Joan Doig and Judith Getis automatically won second terms.

"I feel we'll continue to actively demand the quality education this community deserves, and we'll need the community's help," Dr. Firestone said.

Mrs. Frisch said she had no regrets, would continue to attend board meetings, and was glad there were 403 people "joining me in trying to make happen the things I've been talking about at board meetings."

Mrs. Mack urged the town to "make some effort at the grass-roots level to do something constructive. If people had more feeling for the system as a whole, they would have been more supportive."

Examples of the light vote: only six people voted in the Borough's District One, and only four in the Township's District 12. In all, 366 Borough voters made it to the polls, and 1,325 Township voters for a total of 1,691. The community as a whole has 13,866 registered voters.

GYPSY BACK IN TOWN? Nobody Knows. "I'm sorry to see the gypsy moth back," mourned Township Mayor Jay Bleiman at Committee's Monday night meeting. But is the gypsy really back or not?

Last fall, the state informed the Township there was no infestation, so control money was not put into the budget. In late February, however, the Department of Agriculture told Administrator Joseph R. Nini that 70 acres on both sides of Mt. Lucas Road were infested and should be sprayed – at $6 per acre.

Residents of the area haven't mentioned gypsy, Mr. Nini reported. Committee member Josie Hall said residents should be told what the state said, and asked whether they want the spray. Mr. Nini promised to ask the state why one letter said "no moths" and a second letter said "moths," and ask if residents have noticed moths and if they want the spray.

Unanimously, Committee's four members agreed not to spend the money for a Loop Bus survey requested by the Borough. Council members in the Borough want to know not only that there are 2,000 riders a week, but how many round-trips are made, how many elderly ride, how many students and, if possible, the Borough-Township breakdown on riders.

"This is part of (Councilman) Marty Lombardo's feeling that one person is riding 2,000 times," commented Mayor Bleiman.

"I hope the same people ARE riding many times a week -- by definition, that's what public transportation is," said Committee member Elizabeth Hutter.

Committee agreed that the survey would be best done by volunteers.

Questions from the Floor. "In your hunger for rateables, will you be tempted to sacrifice environmental standards?" asked Robert Hosford, from the audience.

What about culvert recommendations in the Killam report of two years ago? he asked.

Township engineer Joseph Hodak told him the Braeburn culvert was beset by technical problems: it would have to be a bridge not a culvert, because of the sewer line, engineering design will require Sewer Operating Committee and State Board of Health approval, test borings had to be made to find bed-rock, hydraulic problems are now being worked out with the state, the project will cost $100,000 and not only that, a new state law requires a $61 building permit that isn't in the budget.

When Mr. Hosford persisted, inquiring about Randall Road and Snowden Lane culverts as well, Mayor Bleiman said, "You try my patience sorely."

Both engineer and mayor said the process of dealing with state county or Federal authorities made these projects increasingly "cumbersome."

Township to Protest. The new law referred to by Mr. Hodak requires all water-linked construction permits to go through the Department of Environmental Protection. The law, passed without prior notice or hearing, Committee members said, authorized the DEP Commissioner to set a fee scale.

This scale is now being revised. Committee promptly directed Mr. Nini to write the Township's protest, and to ask whether municipalities' fees might be waived for these projects. The county engineer, Donald Harney, has been asking towns to indicate their objection. The annual cost could be high, engineers warn.

It's all right to ask for construction bids for the north side of Community Park recreation area, Committee has been advised by its consultant, Irving Goldberg. Mr. Nini says he expects replies from contractors by March 29. The Township will then have 30 days before it has to act. By then, Federal HUD officials may be able to tell the Township whether its application for money is likely to be approved.

owner could appeal to the governing body.

"As an example," Mrs. Greiff told Committee, "suppose 'Maybury Hill' on Snowden Lane—house and barn—were designated 'Landmarks'. This would be discussed with the Planning Board, and the owner would be invited to a hearing. Many years later, suppose a developer buys the land. He wants to tear down the barn. He would file for a certificate of appropriateness with the building inspector. A hearing would be scheduled, and negotiations would begin.

"We might come up with a plan to keep the barn—make it a two-family house, for example. Or, the Landmark Commission could recommend that the Township acquire the property. The 90-day negotiating period buys time—so that the bulldozers don't suddenly appear one day in August."

Mrs. Greiff was referring to the August demolition, some years ago, of a pair of old houses on Stockton Street.

Mrs. Greiff told Committee Princeton has some 500 buildings dating from the 18th and 19th centuries that should be surveyed. She proposed the job as summer work for student interns.

Mr. Bassett's survey nf nine years ago produced a variety of suggestions ranging the entire town, from bank buildings to rooming houses.

NOTICE

Beginning with its issue of March 11, TOWN TOPICS will have a newsstand price of 20 cents, an increase necessitated by the constantly rising cost of newsprint, which is now $285 per ton.

For example, he found 11 Chambers Street "a wonderfully pretentious little structure which achieves a kind of geometric and decorative monumentality despite being only three bays by two stories..."

Nearby, he noted that 15-17 Bank Street, built in the late 19th century, is "one of several multiple dwellings giving striking unity to this small development."

On another scale, he made note of 10 Bayard Lane, characterizing it as "a large domestic structure, reflecting the amplitude of its period, yet the delicacy in use of material shows in an extremely fine veranda. The house on the corner of Bayard and Hodge is "an interesting example of the 'Shingle Style'".

The familiar half-timbered faculty houses in the Broadmead-Fitzrandolph section are regarded by Mr. Bassett as "somewhat sterile in concept, but spacious and liveable and in great continuity..."

P.J.'s Pancake House? Yes, indeed. This early 19th-century building—possibly with 18th-century portions—is "a transitional structure combining the features of the stores to the west, and of Bainbridge House to the east." The neighboring Garden Theatre is "a functional symbol of the meeting of town and gown."

From the late 18th century, and one of the oldest buildings in the area—the red brick building at Nassau and Charlton—"still performs well the dual function of domestic and commercial use." Also, it has "one of the finest doorways in Princeton."

The upgrading of Pine Street hadn't quite begun in 1967 and when Mr. Bassett noted the 19th-century house at 64 Pine, he called it a "potentially pleasant 'small domestic structure," with the neighborhood "in poor repair."

"Considerable Charm." Other modest houses drew his attention. On Moran Avenue, Number 19 dating from 1820, has a "very handsome doorway and cornice," while 232 John Street, built in the mid-19th century, has the "considerable rural charm typical of New Jersey." On down the street, the late 19th-century brick houses of numbers 242 to 256 John were described as "an interesting multi-family complex which retains its domestic scale and is given unity by gable-end bays."

Even Lincoln Court—"an intrinsically handsome structure whose clear lines and functional massing are greatly hampered by its site, surrounded by parking and commercial structures."

Today will one day be history. Mr. Bassett lists the house built in 1965 at Mercer and Lovers Lane as "one of the better contemporary structures," and he nods at One Palmer Square and the Craft Cleaners building.

The University Laundry—soon to be razed for townhouses—made Mr. Bassett's list. Built in 1900, it is "a structure directly related to the economic life and service of the town," Mr. Bassett states.

The First National Bank Building, built in 1901 and enlarged in 1916, is "dignified, occupying a difficult corner," and like the laundry, a part of the community's economic life.

The Einstein House. The Albert Einstein House at 112 Mercer, a Charles Steadman design from 1830, has both historic and architectural value, Mr. Bassett points out, and in listing many familiar great houses, he refers to the renowned people who have lived in them over the years.

Most, but not all, of his listings are in the Borough. He gives detailed descriptions of the Gulick-Hodge-Scott house on Herrontown Road, the oldest (1768) in the area, and "a fine domestic structure, reflecting a long period of domestic growth, possibly dating in part to Colonial times, and added to by a variety of notable owners."

And so it goes....the barn at "Tusculum" is "one of the finest early barns in the state"....Dickenson Street has many mid-19th century houses with interesting cornices and detail-work....41 Harrison Street, built in late 18th or early 19th century, has a large stone crock on its west border, perhaps related to "Jugtown", and marking the house as "an integral part of the development of a section of the community."

Far from being an interesting historical study for the fireside, the proposed new ordinance has tremendous implications for Princeton's future, and it is sure to draw the comments of property-owners who may be affected.

University Finds Charges Against Food Services Department Involved "Bad Judgment" But Director Is Basically Cleared

Thomas Root will continue in charge of food services for Princeton University, despite "a number of instances of bad judgment," and the University will tighten and upgrade its food services standards.

These are the basic results of two investigations conducted over the past three months following charges against Mr. Root and some of his colleagues by The Daily Princetonian, campus newspaper, on November 12. The paper charged that Mr. Root had "repeatedly" taken food, furniture and appliances belonging to the University and had used trading stamps from University purchases to acquire a canoe, an electric typewriter and a chain saw. In addition, the "Prince" alleged, pans of lasagna had been regularly set aside for Mr. Root and four other members of the food services staff.

One of the investigations was made by the University's financial vice-president Paul B. Firstenberg, at the request of President William G. Bowen. This 30-page document, with an eight-page appendix on attitudes of student and full-time workers, was released Monday with the report of the other investigation, also made at President Bowen's direction.

This 68-page report came from the accounting and management consulting firm of Laventhol & Horwath, a firm of certified public accountants specializing in services to hotels, universities, restaurants and the like.

The Background. Mr. Firstenberg's assignment was to report on allegations of personal misconduct, the L. & H. directive was to see what could be done about the delivery of food on campus.

The Food Services Department was formed in 1960, Mr. Firstenberg says, "at a time when many aspects of University decision-making were largely informal and unstructured, with a minimum of formal controls....The University depended heavily on the initiative of individual managers..."

Thomas Root

The idea, Mr. Firstenberg continues, was to create a "personalized community" much like an extended family. "This environment did not create sharp lines between business and social activities, and in the case of Food Services, encouraged the development of a practice of occasionally making property or equipment or service, when not in use by the University, available to University personnel or organizations if they had need of it."

Anything the implicated officials took is now being returned, Mr. Firstenberg said, "with the full and voluntary cooperation of the officials." Those under investigation, besides Mr. Root, were Bernard L. Gavin and Malcolm J. Graham.

Actions Evaluated. "The mistakes that were made reflect bad judgment," Mr. Firstenberg says, "but not venality or an intent to be dishonest or to act contrary to the interests or policies of the University. They were not surreptitious acts. Rather, they essentially reflected a view of management prerogatives that is common to many food service operations."

There is no suggestion, the Firstenberg report continues, of serious abuses involving improper dealings with sales people or wholesale, systematic pilferage of food. But Mr. Root and his colleagues should have known that it was important to avoid "even the appearance of improperly benefitting from their positions," Mr. Firstenberg says, and shouldn't have decided on their own what property was no longer valuable to the University and was therefore available for their own use.

The University is responsible, too, the report says; "We failed to communicate effectively a clear sense of the standards we expected."

The L. & H. report found that the quality of food service could be improved, but that any real improvement would involve money.

Palatability of food and the appearance of dining areas, especially Commons and the Student Center, could be improved by "small-batch" cooking, use of standard recipes, and stricter control over food preparation, L. & H. said. More people would have to be employed, and management would have to become more interested in both palatability and appearance of food. Added labor might cost around $35,000, the report estimated.

Food Services itself has wanted new equipment for some time, L. & H. pointed out, and the study recommends such modernization whenever it's financially possible.

Suggested Procedures. Management should be told to develop quickly a program for achieving improvements, the report recommends, and John P. Moran, the University's vice-president for facilities, should have responsibility for the specific program. He should also organize an evaluation of food-control procedures proposed by L. & H. and work out the financial problems. In addition, the University should develop written policies on disposal of surplus property, buying through the University and so on.

The L. & H. team said the University was handicapped by the loss of good people to other institutions, and warned that the institution would have to bear the cost of replacing talented people who left for other jobs.

President Bowen acknowledged room for improvement in food services, and expressed confidence in Mr. Root's integrity. "He is widely regarded -- and properly so – as a fine person and a good citizen of this University and the Princeton community."

Mr. Root said President Bowen's remarks were "forthright and fair," and added "I look forward to continued service with the University."

Townhouse Hearing. The show was only about half way through last Wednesday night when the Township Zoning Board decided the hour was late. That means Carnegie Development's presentation of plans for 108 townhouses on 12.74 acres of land fronting Mt. Lucas and Herrontown will be continued at the board's March 24 meeting.

Carnegie needs a use variance for multiple housing and bulk variances. The acreage lies in the R-2 zone, where the single-family limit is one-and-one-half acres, and the Service-2 zone of Route 206.

The developers say only four to six houses could be built on the site, and would have to be priced around $175,000 to $200,000 because the hilly land will be hard to plow. The market for expensive houses like these, says Carnegie, doesn't jibe with the automobile showrooms next door on Route 206.

The Zoning Board was told that developers see "moderate-income" housing that will implement the Princeton Regional Planning Board's "village" concept.

Delay Urged. But the Planning Board itself had several words to say. That "village" concept was never formally adopted, the board said, and indeed has been "substantially reversed" by the board in favor of unmapped sites. In a letter, read by Planning Board counsel William Miller, the board urged developer and Zoning Board to wait for completion of the housing Master Plan, warning that piecemeal projects would undermine a "systematic and orderly housing program."

Not only that, the Planning Board is thinking of 4.2 homes per acre on sites of 100 acres or more. This project is 8.5 units. "Moderate" or "middle" income homes, Mr. Miller said, should be in the $20,000 to $50,000 range to meet Planning Board definitions, adding that this developer "certainly has made no commitment to price any of the proposed dwelling units to satisfy the needs of that sector."

And if a chunk were taken

The Early Point of View

Crocus shivers
In the sun
"If this is spring,
"I'd better run..."

Crocuses are up far earlier than usual, after all that record-breaking February warmth. Ten days provided thermometer readings over 60, and the total surplus in mean temperature was around 200 degrees—more than offsetting the frigid deficit that January left behind.

The return to colder, somewhat raw weather at midweek was to be followed by the kind of sunny and mild days to which we are almost accustomed, no matter how illogical it is. Don't worry about the early buds and flowers—if Mother Nature couldn't take care of them, she wouldn't have allowed them to come out.

from the S-2 zone, Mr. Miller continued, it would deprive the town of a "needed area" for the growth of service businesses.

The Planning Board's letter expressed uneasiness about "too little open space," "excessive" paving and "unknown drainage solutions."

"Ecological Disaster." Neighbors to the north, in Rocky Hill, also expressed alarm about drainage.

"Ecologically, it will be a disaster," said one letter to the Zoning Board. "It will add to surface runoff, increase traffic, affect well-water and reduce the value of my house."

Other residents cited the "limited capacity" of the Rocky Hill-Montgomery sewer into which the project would drain, and many referred to flooding of Van Horn Brook. In fact, one Rocky Hill resident threatened suit against Princeton Township if heavy storm damage followed construction of the project.

Retention basins would not provide the answer, one writer said, estimating five such basins in the Mt. Lucas area if this project were constructed.

"YES" TO LAPLACA

From Zoning Board. "The town's growing—we've got to accept it," said Borough Zoning Board member Margery Claghorn, Thursday night as she moved to approve granting conditional use authorization to Princeton Ventures for construction of 32 "Village Green" townhouses on the old quarry site. The land is owned by Charles LaPlaca.

All but one board member joined her and the authorization was granted, 4-1. The "no" was Kathryn Kuhn.

"Calling this project 'Village Green,'" Mrs. Kuhn observed, "is like the Garden Theatre,. . . named for the garden it replaces."

The project complies with the Borough zoning ordinance and no variances were requested. Board attorney William von Oehsen instructed the board that in a conditional use authorization, the applicant had to produce evidence showing absence of negative impact.

Traffic engineer Robert A. Nelson, for Princeton Ventures, predicted "very, very insignificant total traffic impact; you wouldn't know the project was there, from the traffic point of view."

But Hannah Kahn, 20 Linden Lane, wanted to know the percentage of increase in cars on Linden, and told Mr. Nelson, "We'd like our neighborhood to stay without traffic."

Survey Questioned. Bryce Rittenhouse, engineer, told audience and board that the site was so full of concrete and blacktop chunks dumped as fill that drainage runoff wouldn't be any more after construction than it is now. He doesn't think the county-required detention pond is needed, he said.

Robert McChesney, 158 Spruce, a veteran in this battle, said conditions have changed since Mr. Rittenhouse's survey: Westminster Choir College dumped all its construction excavation dirt there, he said, covering about half an acre four to ten feet deep, and changing the contour of the land.

James Britt, Ventures lawyer, promptly demanded Mr. McChesney's professional qualifications. When Mr. Britt refused to allow consideration of a neighborhood survey made by opponents of the townhouses, R.W. MacMillan, 7 Hamilton Avenue, protested that the proceedings were weighted in favor of the applicant.

"We can only respond to the applicant—we have no expert witnesses' as he does."

Mr. McChesney and others said they could line up experts of their own, but Mr. Britt protested this as a delaying tactic. The board voted down, 3-2, the proposal that opponents be allowed to bring in their own experts.

Revenue or a Park? "Immediate neighbors always find a reason to protest," declared Harris Barnet, who lives in Queenston Common, across the way. He asked the board to consider what could happen to Borough taxes if the land is made into a park and removed from the tax rolls. The playground at Harrison and Nassau was only three blocks away, he remarked.

Mr. MacMillan urged the board to consider the "social impact" of housing on the site, and referred to the area as the most densely populated in the Borough with the least open space.

Acquisition of the land as a park has been held up by a new state requirement for reappraisal of the property.

In other action Thursday night, the Zoning Board granted I. Andrew Shelpuk permission to convert 364 Nassau from office use to combined office-apartment use and denied Bernard Garcia permission to convert a two-family dwelling at 1 Madison - 30 Park into a three-family dwelling.

FIVE SPEEDERS FINED

In Borough Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Judge Philip Carchman in Borough traffic court for speeding.

Robert P. Oliver, 223 Terhune Road, and Catherine A. Francomano, Cold Soil Road, Lawrenceville, each paid $33. Dorothy Birch, 3351 Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, was fined $18; Heidi Nini, 57 Little Brook Road, $17; and Ian G. Walker, 185 Terhune Road, $15.

Frank L. Swaab, 11 Greenview Avenue, was fined $35 after he allegedly hit an unattended car and failed to leave a note. He was ordered to undergo a motor vehicle re-examination.

Fined for red light violations were Ita Ekanem, 115 Bayard Lane, $20, and Anthony Caine, 400-D Devereux Avenue, $15. Mary A. Gutbroadt, 50 Wilton Street, paid $30 for careless driving.

Crosstown-62 Extended

One hour longer in the afternoon for Crosstown-62, the senior citizen sedan.

Starting this Monday, Crosstown will be running until 4 p.m. instead of the 3 p.m. closing hour formerly observed. This means, according to co-ordinator Sandie Rabinowitz, that the last reservations can be for about 3:45.

Last week, 110 people rode Crosstown. In the past, the service has averaged about 100 a week, Mrs. Rabinowitz said.

STOREROOM LOOTED

Of $640 in Stereo Equipment. Stereo components valued at $640 were stolen last week from a storeroom in West College on the Princeton University campus, and an undergraduate lost $7, a checkbook and two necklaces when her purse was taken this weekend from a cloakroom in Tiger Inn on Prospect Avenue.

An 8-frequency radio scanner valued at $220 was stolen from an unlocked car parked in the Palmer Square municipal lot. The owner, a Township resident, reported the theft Monday morning.

A Princeton resident lost $15 last week after he joined the long list of victims who have had their wallets stolen from a YMCA locker. Police said the locker had been locked.

Evidence that anything is fair game for thieves came last week with the report of Harry Tan of Magie Apartments that the rear bumper of his Volkswagen had been unbolted and carried away while it was parked under a street light in a Magie lot.

A car parked next to the Tan car owned by Brian A. Hickie of Magie Apartments was rifled but nothing appeared to have been taken. An instrument had been used to force open the front door and the glove compartment. Police placed the time of the two incidents between 5:15 Saturday afternoon and 1 p.m. Sunday.

A sliding door, two aluminum frames and four 4x8x9 fir beams were stolen from the site of a house under construction on Gallup Road. Carol Jacobelli of Trenton, who reported the theft last week, told police the materials had been unloaded and stored on the property in December.

Police also said that a vacant house on Valley Road was entered last week -- a window was broken out -- but apparently no other damage was done. Hilton Realty, 194 Nassau, reported the entry.

MAN IS CAUGHT

Trying to Enter House. A Princeton man was arrested by police shortly after noon last Wednesday after he had allegedly tried to enter a home in the Princeton Community Village at 23 Butternut Row.

Edward Vernon Jr., 23, 413 Alexander Street, was apprehended at the scene by Sgt. Michael Koptiner, Ptl. Anthony Gaylord and Ptl. John Hammond, and charged with breaking and entering and possession of burglar tools.

Arraigned before Mercer County Judge Richard J.S. Barlow, Vernon is being held in the Mercer County Detention Center in lieu of $2,500 bail. Township Chief Frederick Porter revealed that Vernon also faces 11 other counts of breaking and entering -- all in the Township.

According to police, Vernon was seen by a neighbor trying to pry open a sliding door of the Butternut home. He had failed in his attempt by the time police arrived.

Earlier in the week, an entry and theft at Gallup & Robinson, Research Park, North Harrison Street, was reported by the firm's president, Leroy E. Purvis.

Taken, police said, were an IBM typewriter, calculator, camera, cassette tape and other items with a combined value of $1,194.94. In addition, $70 in coins was taken from a cigarette vending machine and $20 more from a candy machine.

The police investigation revealed that entry was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a window on the northeast corner of the building.

There was an attempted entry at the home of Carl Breuer, 79 Parkside Avenue, which was discovered by Mr. Breuer Friday morning.

Police report that an attempt had been made to pry a window on the east side. Ptl. John Hammond investigated.

MORATORIUM MODIFIED?

Infiltration Study Done. Princeton is eligible to apply for "modification" of the moratorium on sewer connections.

The state's Department of Environmental Protection sent the Sewer Operating Committee a letter to that effect last week. It's the second such letter to the SOC; the first one arrived last fall.

On Saturday, Brokaw Engineering Associates submitted its report on the infiltration survey, the firm had been doing over the past several months. Municipal officials and Brokaw engineers will discuss it this week, and the engineers are expected to point out what repairs would be eligible for 75 percent Federal funding. After that recommendation, the SOC will apply for the money, hoping for Federal approval by June.

Nobody knows exactly what Princeton must do to get "modification." Rehabilitation of the sewer system along lines indicated by the infiltration study, is an eventual necessity. (The study was made to find out where and how the system allows outside water to infiltrate the pipes). The new plant for the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority is now under construction.

The state might accept actual work on either of these, without necessarily requiring completion. But SOC members say the magnitude of the problem: -- the overflow, especially in rainy weather, goes into Lake Carnegie, the Millstone and Stony Brook -- may mean that Princeton must be far advanced before the moratorium will be significantly modified.

Borough Lists 252 Houses Entered Last Year; Value of Property Stolen Increases by 250%

Borough crime statistics for 1975 released by Chief Michael Carnevale, compared with 1974, reveal that breaking and enterings rose from 189 to 252 while larcenies and thefts dipped to 454 from 517.

Assaults were the same (69) but robberies were down from 26 to 24, auto thefts declined from 18 to 16 and rape from five to two.

There was one murder in 1975, that of Larry Tolve, 26, of Witherspoon Street on October 11 – the Borough's first since the shooting of a Princeton Bank and Trust teller in February, 1968. A Philadelphia man, who turned himself into police less than two days later, was charged with the crime. He is in jail still awaiting trial.

The value of property stolen was two and a half times greater, rising from $104,388 to $277,559, and the value of recovered property doubled—from $29,042 to $60,292.

The total number of arrests numbered 473–65 less than the year before. Of those, 391 were adults and 82 juveniles. Juvenile arrests had totaled 139 in 1975.

Narcotic arrests were also down: 32 adults and nine juvenile as compared to 42 and 22 – the third year in a row that narcotic arrests have shown a decrease, Chief Carnevale commented.

Police issued 2,145 tickets for moving violations – up 249 – of which speeding (1108) accounted for more than half. Streets that produced the most speeders were Elm 292 – up sharply from 91 in '75 – Mercer, 226, up 15, and Hamilton, 176, up 28.

There were 42 fewer accidents (284) and 17 fewer injured (95). Accidents involving bicyclist were up from 7 to 19 and those involving pedestrians down from 19 to 10.

Parking...? Up! Overtime parking violations were up from 25,610 to 28,227; all-night parking violations rose from 4,017 to 4,815 and no-parking zone offenders numbered 2,348 – up from 1,988.

The total number of motor vehicle summonses issued was 40,138 – more than 5,000 over the previous year. "That's a fair number of summonses," observed Chief Carnevale.

Police responded to 775 burglar alarms – approximately 160 homes and businesses have a direct tie-in with police headquarters – which was 29 less than '74. Borough patrol cars traveled 135,846 miles – or more than five trips around the equator. The mileage for 1974 was 141,153.

Police also investigated 80 fires last year, 31 of which they extinguished themselves.

JUVENILES CHARGED

In Township, Borough. Juveniles in the Township and Borough were charged by police last week with various offenses.

In the Township, Juvenile Officer Anthony Pinelli reported the apprehension of two youths, 14 and 15, who he said were breaking into cars parked in the American Can Company lot off North Harrison Street. Both were Township residents.

Det. Pinelli reported that about a half dozen cars were entered over a three-day period. Police recovered about $300 in stolen articles, including a woman's $50 gold watch.

One of the victims, Richard Ernst of Plainsboro, told police that his CB antenna had been stolen while his car was parked between 6 and 8 p.m. last Wednesday at the American Can lot. He valued it at $23. Police said the antenna's wires had been cut.

One of the youths, who was on probation, was taken to the Mercer County Youth House; the other was released to his parents.

Two teenagers were arrested Saturday after Ptl. Victor Fasanella observed one smoking a marijuana cigarette in the Humbert Street area.

Apprehended at Spring and Witherspoon streets by Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Officer Monica Sheehan were Richard Porter, 18, of Connellsville, Pa. and a 16-year old from Minersville, Pa. Porter was charged with possession and use of marijuana and issued a summons. The second youth was charged with being under the influence of alcohol.

Police said the two were students of Mercersberg Academy in Pennsylvania and were here attending a swim meet with Lawrenceville School.

Purloined Pumas. Four juveniles, aged 14 to 16, were arrested last week in front of the Princeton University campus and charged with stealing five pairs of Puma sneakers from Varsity Sport Shop, 138 Nassau Street. Police said all were from outside the Princeton area.

They were observed behind Allen's store removing the sneakers ($26-pr.) from their boxes and stuffing them inside their gym bags. They were turned over by the arresting officers, Sgt. Thomas Procaccino and Ptl. William Hunter, to the Borough Juvenile Officer, Douglas Watson for processing.

At 7:30 Sunday evening, police stopped a 16-year old Township cyclist who was riding on Nassau Street to warn him about riding at night without lights.

They found two cans of beer attached to a rack at the rear of the bike, two more cans and several brass pipes which allegedly contained marijuana. He was turned over to the Borough juvenile officer.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By SAVE. The Princeton Small Animal Rescue League (SAVE) elected officers and board members at its annual meeting in February.

They are; Mrs. Edward J. McCabe, Jr., president; Mr. William D'O. Lippincott, first vice-president; Mrs. Lindley W. Tiers, second vice-president; William A. Caffrey, treasurer; Jeremiah S. Finch, recording secretary; Henry R. Martin, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Albert C. Barclay, Jr.; Albert C. Barclay, Jr.; Mrs. E.B.C. Borgerhoff; P.J. Conkwright; Mrs. Hamilton Cottier; Amos Eno; Mrs. David W. Fleming; Mrs. C. Danforth Knapp; Mrs. Gerard B. Lambert; Mrs. Alexander E. Morris; George W. Pitcher and Mrs. Isabelle Stuart, board members.

Mrs. A.C. Graves, SAVE's executive director, reported that last year homes were found for 316 dogs and 276 cats; 280 dogs and 28 cats were returned to their owners and 31 miscellaneous pets were adopted.

The league is a private, non-profit, organization that has cared for lost, abandoned or injured animals in the Princeton area since 1951. It is almost entirely supported by contributions.

It is the only service of its kind in Princeton and works closely with both the Borough and the Township. If a lost, injured or abandoned animal is found, call the Borough or Township police. SAVE is not allowed to pick up lost, injured or abandoned animals.

State law requires that animals be held for seven days to give owners a chance to reclaim their lost pets. Owners who claim their pets are responsible for paying to SAVE the boarding charge. During the seven days they are given medical attention, if needed, by a licensed veterinarian and efforts by SAVE are made to locate the animal's owner.

After seven days, every effort is made to place unclaimed healthy animals in good homes. Anyone interested in securing a pet should notify Mrs. Graves by calling 921-6122. Tax deductible contributions can be mailed to SAVE, 900 Herrontown Road, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

YOUR TAXES

Borough Budget Hearing. The Borough's $3,068,701 budget for 1976 will be formally on the floor for public hearing when Council meets next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The amount to be raised by taxes is $957,944 – 4.3 percent below this year – although the budget as a whole is 5.1 percent higher. The local tax is exactly the same as in the 1975 budget: 97 cents. The school tax is $2.71, up 69 cents and the county tax is an estimated $1.79.

The budget hearing is the only major item on Council's agenda.

OPENING THURSDAY: McCarter Theatre Company's 40th anniversary production of Clifford Odets' comedy-drama "Awake and Sing" begins its Princeton run Thursday at 7:30 with Morris Carnovsky recreating his original role of Jacob and Martin Rudy cast as his son Morty. After its limited engagement through Sunday, March 14, the production will go to the Annenburg Center in Philadelphia.

News Of The THEATRES

"AWAKE AND SING"

With Carnovsky. Morris Carnovsky created the role of Jacob in Clifford Odets' play, "Awake and Sing" when it was given 40 years ago on Broadway. He is re-creating the part for a 40th anniversary production of the play to be given by the McCarter Theatre Company in performances over the next ten days.

"Awake and Sing" will open this Thursday at 7:30 and will run through Sunday, March 14. After that, it will move to Philadelphia where it is scheduled to open Tuesday, March 16, at the Annenberg Center.

In the 40 years since the original "Awake and Sing," Carnovsky has played a wide variety of roles on the stage, in films, on radio and television. He has achieved wide recognition for his portrayals of Shakespeare, most notably King Lear and Shylock. His Lear was recently done for the American Shakespeare Theatre in Stratford, where Michael Kahn, artistic director of McCarter, is also artistic director.

"Awake and Sing" describes the frustrations of a Jewish family living in the Bronx in the post-Depresssion years. Critics have called it "a stirring play, chuckful of pungent humor," and have remarked on the laughter that leavens the social drama.

MUSICAL TO OPEN

Players to Stage "Company." The Princeton Community Players' first musical in modern memory -- "Company" by Stephen Sondheim and George Furth -- opens Friday at 8:30 in the Players theatre at 171 Broadmead with more than half of its cast made up of veterans of former P.J. & B. McCarter Theatre shows. Every one of the cast of 14 has had experience in musical theatre, straight theatre or cabaret work.

Rita McDowell, who plays Sarah in "Company," has been seen by Princeton audiences in seven P.J. & B. musicals: "Finian's Rainbow," "Mame," "Anything Goes," "Gypsy," "The Sound of Music," "Carousel" and "Jacques Brel." Roo Brown, who played the title role in "Mame," appeared also in "The Music Man," "The Most Happy Fella" and "The Sound of Music." She has also acted with Theatre Intime, the Bucks County Playhouse, Trenton's Playhouse-in-the-Park, the Treadway Inn's Dinner Theatre, and the Community Players -- the last-named in "The Seagull."

Liz Fillo has made two appearances with the Players within the year, in "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little" last spring and more recently as Evy Meara in "The Gingerbread Lady." For P.J. & B. she has also sung in "Fiddler on the Roof," "Jacques Brel" and "Carousel." Carole Davis has sung at McCarter with the Princeton Opera Association, and for P.J. & B. she acted Marion in "The Music Man," Rosabella in "The Most Happy Fella," Julie in "Carousel," and Mrs. Molloy in "Hello, Dolly."

Marthe Rowen, playing Marta in "Company," sang the lead role of Laurey in P.J. & B.'s "Oklahoma!," while Lewe Gantwerk (Harry) and John Johnson (Larry) were in the same production as well as in "South Pacific," "Fiddler" and "Most Happy Fella."

The lead role of Robert in "Company" will be played by S. Michael Schnessel, who is a free-lance writer as well as a musical actor with Off-Off Broadway experience. Others in the Players cast are Sheila Clark, Michael Gilbert, Bette Hance, Stacy Holmes, Katherine Leary and Ed Teti.

Directing "Company" is Janet Wilson, with musical direction by Richard Loatman and choreography by Michael F. Hamer.

The play will run for three weekends, on March 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21. Tickets for all performances may be reserved by phoning 448-7053 (daytime) or 924-0625 (after 5.)

Sound of Grumbling You Hear Traceable to Moviegoers' Revolt

"Moviegoers of Princeton Unite!!! We have nothing to lose but the Sameric chain."

Under that appropriately dramatic slogan, Betty Fussell of 26 Lilac Lane has called on fellow Princeton movie buffs who are dissatisfied with the films offered here to exert pressure on the Sameric movie chain which operates the Playhouse and Garden theaters, Palmer Square Inc., the landlord of the theaters; and Princeton University, the principal stockholder in Palmer Square Inc.

Mrs. Fussell, a professor of English at Rutgers University who specializes in dramatic literature, complains that the chain, while bringing first-run movies to town, keeps them here so long that a person interested in a wide variety of films is forced to endure limited showings using generally poor equipment at the University, or to drive out of town.

"We are at the mercy of a chain which has at least 30 theaters and which doesn't care a bit about our interests in Princeton," she says.

"Princeton is large enough to support a theater like the Garden operating as a repertoire theater," she adds. By repertoire theater, Mrs. Fussell does not mean one that shows a movie like "Jaws" for four or five months running.

'New Monopoly.' "We need first-rate movies as well as first-run movies," she says.

Mrs. Fussell is also unhappy about the new, higher prices charged at the Playhouse and Garden. "The prices are the same as in New York but we have none of the advantages of New York," she says. "These movie chains are a new kind of monopoly."

Mrs. Fussell and her husband, Paul, also an English professor at Rutgers, first circulated their petition at a party and obtained 35 signatures from commiserating souls.

They will no doubt need many more to influence any part of the movie establishment in this town. The Fussell's were piqued when they, along with many other residents, first noticed the garish Sameric sign above the Playhouse. Residents wrote letters and complained, and Sameric said it would change the sign.

As of this writing, the sign is still there.

Carnes. Two casts will be used for the chief female parts, one performing Friday and Sunday and the other on Saturday. Rhoda Jaffin and Hope Blackburn will share the part of Laurey, Ibby Carothers and Sandra Benson are Ado Annie, and Orren Weisberg will alternate with Rachel Abelson as Aunt Eller. Jennifer Chandler will play Gertie Cummings at all three performances.

The play is directed by Herbert McAneny, with musical direction by Frank Jacobson and choreography by Mimi Suarez. Mimi Gregory has designed the sets, with Bill Uhl as student technical director.

MORE "LYSISTRATA"

On Demand. "Unprecedented demand," says Theatre Intime, will keep the new musical adaptation of Aristophanes' "Lysistrata" on the Murray Theatre stage for another weekend.

Performances for this Friday and Saturday, both at 8:30, have been added. Reservations may be made at 452-8181 between 1 and 8.

Aristophanes' bawdy and boisterous comedy about the Athenian women who decide to go on a sex strike as a way to end a war, has been adapted, freshened and set to original music by Bruce Green and Robert Cohen. Both are undergraduates at Princeton University.

COMEDY PLANNED

By Pennington Players. The Pennington Players will present "6 Rms Rv Vu" on April 2, 3, 9 and 10 in Heritage Hall of the Pennington Presbyterian Church. April 3 will be a dinner-theatre by reservation only which may be obtained by calling 737-0718.

Mary Rees, director, has announced the following cast: Marty Goebel, Allan Salkin, Kate O'Neill, Tom O'Neill, Selma Furst, Rudy Fernandez, Karen Wagner and Bill Agress. This play has been called "A sprightly, happy comedy of charm and humor" about what happens when a man and a woman, who are strangers to each other, are inadvertently locked in an empty apartment.

"DOLL'S HOUSE"

With Fonda. Jane Fonda stars as Nora in the film version of Ibsen's "A Doll's House," to be shown next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in McCarter's regular film series.

Made originally for television under the direction of Joseph Losey, the film was first shown in 1974 at the New York Film Festival. It has never been released to theatres until now, and this will be its first Princeton showing.

Ibsen's play is confined to a single indoor setting, but David Mercer has adapted the script so that the scene shifts to times and places referred to in the dialogue. This gives movement and variety and breaks the tedium of the single scene. Filming was done on location in Norway.

Besides Fonda, the cast has Trevor Howard as Dr. Rank, David Warner as Torvald, Edward Fox as Krogstad and Delphine Seyrig as Kristine.

FOR KIDS.....

"Huck Finn." The 1974 adaptation of Mark Twain's "Huckleberry Finn" will be next on McCarter's 'Specially for Kids film series. It will be given two showings--- 11 and 2-- this Saturday. Tickets for both will be on sale starting at 10.

In this re-telling of the well-loved story, Jeff East plays the part of Huck. David Wayne and Harvey Korman are The King and The Duke, and Paul Winfield, who portrayed the father in "Sounder," is Jim.

MUSIC In Princeton

PERAHIA

In First Princeton Recital. Compositions by Haydn, Bartok, Schumann and Brahms will be on the program when pianist Murray Perahia appears in Princeton Monday. His recital is scheduled for 8 p.m. at McCarter Theatre.

Mr. Perahia made his Carnegie Hall debut in 1968 after winning the Leeds Pianoforte Competition and the Kosciusko Chopin Prize. Since then, he has appeared with the orchestras of Philadelphia, Washington, Cleveland, Toronto and London and with such conductors as Leinsdorf, Abbado, Previn and Jochum.

For his McCarter appearance, he has chosen Haydn's Variations in F Minor, Bartok's "Out of Doors" suite Schumann's "Papillons" and the Brahms Variations on a Theme of Handel.

ORGAN AND ORCHESTRA

In 8th Trinity Concert. James Litton, director of music at Trinity Church will be the featured performer in the eighth of this winter's Trinity-All Saints' Series of Concerts and Musical Services, when he will appear as organist in Miller Chapel of Princeton Seminary on Monday evening at 8.

In a program entitled "Music for Organ and Orchestra," Mr. Litton will play compositions by Daniel Pinkham, Mozart, Corelli and Frank Martin. The principal work will be the Organ Concerto of Francis Poulenc, in which Mr. Litton will be joined by the Collegium Musicum of Princeton under the direction of Joseph Kovacs.

PIANIST Murray Perahia will be heard as part of the Music-at-McCarter series Monday at 8.

A graduate of Westminster Choir College, Mr. Litton was organist and choirmaster at the Cathedral in Indianapolis before coming to Princeton, where his work with the various choirs of Trinity Church is well-known and much admired. He is a member of the faculties of both Westminster Choir College and Princeton Theological Seminary.

RECITAL SATURDAY

By University Senior. Charlene Cosman, soprano, will give a recital on Saturday at 8:30 in Woolworth Center, sponsored by The Friends of Music.

A senior at Princeton, Miss Cosman is studying voice with Shirlee Emmons. She has been a member of the University Glee Club for three years, and was soprano soloist on the Glee Club's Mexican and European tours, as well as in Bach's St. Matthew Passion last April. Last spring she also shared a program in Woolworth Center under the auspices of the Friends of Music.

Her program will consist of 18th and 19th century works (Handel, Gaffi, Gretry, Granados) and 20th century songs by David Diamons, William Flanagan, Michael Head, as well as works by Gershwin, Porter and Bernstein. Jonathan Richman '78, cellist and Eileen Korey '77, flutist will be assisting artists.

The concert is open to the public, admission free.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY

At Proctor Hall. An organ concert will be given Sunday at 8:30 in Proctor Hall at the Graduate College by Roger Ruckert, University organist. A junior at Princeton, Mr. Ruckert has played the organ for nine years, studying mostly with Claire Coci.

He has played extensively in New York City churches and in organ competitions. In 1972 he won the Jane Whittemore Competition sponsored by the Metropolitan Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

The program will consist of the "Toccata avanti la Messa della Madonna" and "Kyrie" from the "Fiori Musicali" by Girolamo Frescobaldi; "Fugue in C" and "Chorale Prelude: 'Wir Danken Dir, Herr Jesu Christ'" by Dietrich Buxtehude; "Toccata in E" and "Chorale Prelude: 'An Wasserflussen Babylon'" by Johann Pachelbel; "Chorale Prelude: 'Wir glauben all an einen Gott'," "Chorale Prelude: 'O Mensch, bewein' dein 'Sunde gross'," and "Prelude and Fugue in A" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

AMATEURS TO MEET

Will Sing Hayden. The Society of Musical Amateurs will meet Sunday at 4 in the Unitarian Church. Robert Jones will conduct a reading rehearsal of Hayden's "Harmonie-Messe" with full orchestra, chorus and soloists. Sharon Alexander will sing the soprano solo; Beatrice Engel, alto; Lester Erick, tenor; and Stephen Owen, bass.

Anyone interested is invited to participate or attend. Auditions are not required to sing in the chorus, but modest sight-reading ability is helpful. There is a small charge for those without a

IT'S NEW To Us

NOT JUST LUGGAGE

At Luttmann's. At the base of Palmer Square there is a spacious store whose name does not begin to tell its full story. For at Luttmann's Luggage, in addition to suitcases you'll find an incredible selection of small leather goods.

Although owner John Goodman says, "As much as we have, people often ask for something else," we can't imagine what is missing. There are things for men, women and travel, plus many extras.

If you have a man in mind, you can choose from billfolds, keycases, stud boxes, cigar cases, travel kits, and of course, attache cases. These latter include thin leather envelopes for just a few papers; standard leather cases with combination locks; and a sleek tan zipper case with two handles and an optional shoulder strap for the casual look that has become so prevalent, approximately $32 to $95.

The small leathers come from companies such as Bond Street, St. Thomas, Prince Gardner and Bosca, which Mr. Goodman says, "are excellent lines. The best we can buy." Prices here start at about $6 or $7.

Tote Bags. For the women, there are wallets, French purses, jewel rolls, sewing kits, manicure kits, and cigarette cases with attached disposable lighters. However, according to Mr. Goodman the most important item for women is the tote bag.

These are another reflection of today's casual tone; and they range from a denim blue duffel-shaped one trimmed with striped and solid red bands, to a saddle leather shoulder bag with several zippered compartments including one for a tennis racket, to a smaller tote in the softest tan reverse cowhide with its own attached purse, $15 to $65.

Then for the traveler a lovely (and very practical) gift is a passport case with enough room for all kinds of necessary papers such as tickets, traveler's checks and an itinerary. Here, there is a handsome pigskin one in red, black or tan, $18.95.

Luttmann's has some other travelers' suggestions too, such as a tie case, playing cards, a small bar, alarm clock or a piece of instant luggage -- and they all come in small zippered cases.

You'll find surprises here too – such as guest books, umbrellas, picture frames, albums and even a manuscript book. However, luggage is the main part of this store and in the past few years this field has become more diversified with the use of fabric and the introduction of some new shapes.

We particularly liked Cowan's luggage of a Herculan natural tweed that has been woven into a chevron pattern and trimmed with tan leather. The pieces include a small tote bag, a carry-on duffel with handles and a shoulder strap, and standard size luggage with a broad strap across the top and down the front, $60 to $115.

Invicta's luggage is perfect for the person who travels a lot and handles his own bags. First of all, they are made of a high quality vinyl that is impervious to almost everything and secondly, the large pieces have an option of snap-on wheels to help you cover that distance from the baggage claim area to your car. This line comes in blue, brown, tan or oyster and ranges from a tote up to a 29-inch overseas bag, $27.50 to $67.50.

We also liked Ventura's vinyl luggage that comes in gold, olive or blue with multicolored striped trim. Most intriguing here is an expandable duffle bag with a false bottom that can be unzipped to approximately double its capacity -- just right for those extra items that always seem to accompany you home, $50.

No matter where we looked in this store, the variety and price range constantly amazed us. For instance, in addition to the above, Luttmann's also carries the plaid zippered Grasshopper suitcases, an inexpensive line just right for students ($22 to $37.50), as well as a tan all-

NEW PLANS MADE

For Furniture Clearance Center. For some time now, approximately one Saturday a month, the Furniture Clearance Center in the basement of the Hilton Realty building has opened its doors for special sales. Managed by Nassau Interiors, this center use to feature furniture (some from the main store and some special values) priced below the normal suggested mark-up, on a cash-and-carry basis.

Now Nassau Interiors has decided to more closely associate this center with the main store by creating a full-time contemporary furniture division at this location. Many new lines have already arrived, and although owner Leonard LaPlaca has upgraded the new furniture from that of the clearance center, he plans to continue the policy of prices below the suggested retail, on a cash-and-carry basis.

Mr. LaPlaca is particularly pleased with several new lines that blend different woods. This is a look that previously has been hard to find in this country at a reasonable price.

For instance he showed us a spindle loveseat and sofa that is "reminiscent of the type of thing George Nakashima (a New Hope architect-furniture designer) created." Made of oak with walnut accents, these pieces with their beautiful spindle backs and gently sculptured side rails should really be placed in the center of the room and be admired from all sides, $375 and $517.

Another group by American Inspiration has borrowed from the simple concepts of the country furniture designed by the Shakers in the early years of our country. However, they have not limited themselves to the pine of that period.

Particularly interesting is a refectory table with a beautiful oak stretcher base and pine top banded at the ends by two oak pieces that pull out to accommodate two pine leaves, $343. There is also a sideboard and a pedestal table.

For Every Room. By Lane, there is a group of furniture for almost every room. Years ago a cabinetmaker would have been required to produce this look of oiled walnut inlaid with strips of natural oak, and yet today it is extremely reasonably priced. The selection includes cabinets, tables, a canopy bed, a table-desk and many other pieces, from about $100.

Upholstered furniture arranged in a pit grouping is a popular aspect of the contemporary look. Eight pieces of a tufted burnt orange velveteen cost $699, or you can combine any number of chairs, corners and ottomans to fit your particular needs, $55 to $129 each. Other fabrics and styles are also available.

While talking about the upholstered furniture, it is interesting to note that Nassau Interiors also has a line of recliner chairs in contemporary styles and fabrics.

You'll also find many smaller pieces here that help to complete any decorating scheme, such as chrome and glass tables and an extensive collection of lamps. The lamps range from a bright yellow cylinder on a narrow curved pole that can swing out over a chair, to a cluster of three globes on narrow chrome poles of various heights, to a table model of eight rosewood and polychrome tubes bound together to form the base, $26 to $96.

As a final thought, this is also the store to check for home office furniture. We saw several handsome desks and leather swivel chairs in looks that included the traditional as well as the contemporary.

This new division of Nassau Interiors, in the basement of 194 Nassau Street, is open Monday through Saturday from 10 to 5 and it will have the full services of the main store. Milan Karrlovac, an architect and interior designer from Yugoslavia, is in charge and ready to help with any decorating decisions.

THIRD BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED BY NEWS CARRIER "What!" you're supposed to exclaim, "A three-year-old newspaper boy?" Not at all a 12-year-old who's celebrated three birthdays, which is quite different Robin Achey was born February 29, 1964 In 1968, TOWN TOPICS ran his first birthday picture (left) In 1972, for his second birthday, he posed for the picture in the middle, and last week-end, he sat on his delivery bike for his latest picture With a birthday every four years, you make the most of it. Thursday night, Robin and his family had dinner out. Friday birthday party with friends, and the Princeton-Yale basketball game. Saturday to New York to see the Knicks, Sunday family birthday In off-years, Robin only gets to celebrate one day, usually March 1 He enjoys basketball, as you might guess from his social calendar, and plays at John Witherspoon School, where he is a sixth-grader, but does not regard himself as a star He has two older brothers, an older sister, three cats, goldfish and a set of parents, Mr and Mrs John A Achey, all at 20 Linwood Circle His parting shout to the photographer, "See you when I'm 16!"

AUCTION PARTY

March 5 at Jewish Center. The Jewish Center Women's Division and Princeton Hadassah will hold a "Fun-tastic Buy-centennial," all puns intended, Saturday at 8:30 at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street.

An old fashioned sale will highlight bidding on various services and specialities, such as private tennis lessons, a facial and make-up consultation, a painting job on any room in the home and a day's canoe trip.

Also up for bid are a weekend at an upstate New York house with stocked bar and refrigerator; a day of pond fishing; sailing lessons; a balloon ride; butler and maid service for an evening; a guided tour of a museum and dinner for six served at home.

Fairgoers may also buy an original poster or a plant or two to help a handicapped child; make their own sundaes; have their horoscopes read; and enjoy coffee and homemade baked goods or free pretzels and beer.

Admission is $1. Coordinating the event are Joann Carchman, Bev Glassman, Irene Katz, Louise Rose and Martha Rossman.

MARCH PROCLAIMED

As Red Cross Month. The Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross at 182 North Harrison Street has pointed out that the month of March has once again been proclaimed Red Cross Month by the White House in honor of the million or more volunteers who perform a multitude of compassionate services.

"No Red Cross service or program in this or other community would function without volunteers," the Chapter stated. "Traditionally the organization is known for its ability to react to major disaster situations, blood services and assistance to servicemen and their families. Perhaps lesser known is Red Cross volunteer work in hospitals, clinics, and nursing homes."

Red Cross volunteers are also active in health centers, prisons and probation departments. "All of us are beneficiaries of these doers," the Chapter stated, "We are also in debt to other millions of Americans who support the organization with contributions of funds and blood."

VAN VISIT FRIDAY

To Collect Aluminum. The Reynolds recycling van will make its monthly appearance in the Princeton Shopping Center Friday between 11 and 1. All-aluminum beverage cans, aluminum foil, pie pans, frozen food and dinner trays, dip and pudding and meat containers may be turned in, and the recycling consumer will be paid 15 cents a pound.

The Reynolds company estimates that there is a 95 percent energy savings in the creation of new aluminum from recycled products.

ATHENIAN POTTER

Topic of Memorial Lecture. Professor Homer A. Thompson of the Institute for Advanced Study will give an illustrated public lecture, "The Potter at Work in Ancient Athens" on Thursday, at 4:30 in 101 McCormick Hall on the University campus. The lecture is sponsored by the Department of Classics in memory of William Kelly Prentice, a member of the Department from 1894 to 1940.

Professor Thompson has been a member of the Institute for Advanced Study since 1947. Beginning in 1945 he was Field Director of the excavations of the American School of Classical Studies in the Athenian market place. His lecture will present Athenian life in the classical period as depicted on the works of the masters of Attic pottery.

Dr. Prentice was valedictorian of the Princeton class of 1892 and published major works on Greek and Latin history, inscriptions, Greek Tragedy and the New Testament. He was a member of two Princeton archaeological expeditions to Syria and served as Visiting Professor in Athens and Berkeley, California.

At his death in 1974 a memorial fund was established in the Department. This lecture is one of a series of public lectures in honor of his long service to the University.

SUSPECT CAUGHT

In Campus Robbery. Patrick Gilmour, 21, no known address, wanted by Borough police for the February 21 robbery at Princeton University in which $30 was stolen from a room in Hamilton Hall, was arrested Friday morning.

He was seized by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Det. Charles Harris at a bus stop on the corner of Stockton and Library Place. Originally, bail of $2,500 was set but Gilmour was later released in his own recognizance, pending his appearance March 17 in Borough Court.

SHOPLIFTER CHARGED

One With Loot Escapes. One of two men who allegedly shoplifted a $150 cassette tape recorder Saturday from Center Business Machines, 104 Nassau Street, and then walked outside, was apprehended.

Clarence Donaldson, 25, of Trenton, was charged with shoplifting and later released in $1,000 bail. He is scheduled to appear in court March 17.

The second suspect, who had the cassette in his possession, escaped. He was described as 25, 5-5, with a beard, wearing a blue shirt, tan leather jacket and suede beige-colored shoes.

BICENTENNIAL HUES

Even On Street Sweeper. Don't be startled by the sight of a red, white and blue motorized sweeper on the streets of Lawrence Township.

The Sypek Center of the Mercer County Area Vocational-Technical Schools, at the request of the Lawrence Township Roads Department, brought the sweeper into the body shop at the school and painted it in appropriate colors for the Bicentennial.

"Our students had a lot of fun doing this," said Sypek Principal Thomas J. Walls. "And they'd be delighted to help other municipalities or organizations with similar projects."

NEW TRUSTEES NAMED

By Medical Center. The election of four new members to the board of trustees of the Princeton Medical Center and re-election of three members to additional three-year terms has been announced by the Medical Center's President, John W. Kauffman.

Newly elected Trustees are: Thomas P. Cortelyou, M.D., a resident of Hopewell, Edward R. Farley, Jr., Peter O. Lawson-Johnston, and Philip D. Reed, Jr. of Princeton.

A native Princetonian, Dr. Cortelyou has served as a member of the medical staff for the past 25 years and is the Chairman of the Department of Emergency Services at the Medical Center.

Mr. Farley, a graduate of Princeton University is currently Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Atlas Corporation as well as a director of a number of national corporations. He is also President of the Board of Trustees of The Lawrenceville School.

Mr. Lawson-Johnston was graduated from the University of Virginia and serves as Chairman of the H.F. Guggenheim Foundation as well as President of the Guggenheim Museum and director of numerous national and international corporations. Mr. Reed, a graduate of Yale University, is a Director of S.B. Penick & Co. and other national corporations.

Re-elections to the Board included Anthony J. Maruca, Vice President of Administrative Affairs, Princeton University, David J. Rose, M.D., Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology at the Medical Center and John F. Hoff, III, President and Chief Executive Officer of the First National Bank of Princeton.

RIGHT ADDRESS NEEDED

For Income Tax Form. The Township and Borough of Princeton remind all citizens of the importance of correctly reporting their place of municipal residence which has been requested by the Bureau of the Census on their 1976 individual income tax return 1040 and 1040A. This information will be used by the Census Bureau to prepare the 1976 population and 1975 per capita income estimates for general revenue sharing purposes. In 1974, the Census Bureau went through a similar process to prepare the per capita income figures currently used in the revenue sharing allocation process.

This data will be used by the Treasury Department to determine future allocations of Federal revenue sharing funds for the Township and Borough. Any taxpayers unsure of their exact place of residence may call 924-5749 for assistance.

Learn how the new State Tax on Capital Gains & Unearned Income affects you

Attend A Seminar Sponsored By The First National Bank of Princeton

Thursday, March 4th, at 7:30 p.m. at The Prince William Room of The Nassau Inn
Palmer Square, Princeton

Guest Speaker Will Be
Robert J. Wells of Peat,
Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

In 1975, a new income-type tax on New Jersey residents and certain non-residents became law. The tax is retroactive to January 1, 1975, and must be reported on this year's tax statement by April 15, 1976. Here are just a few of the important questions that will be answered on this new tax during our forthcoming free seminar —

- What's taxed and what isn't?
- Who is taxed?
- What is the rate of tax?
- How much savings interest must you have earned in order to pay any tax at all?
- If you're a N J resident, but receive interest from savings deposits in out-of-state banks, will you still be taxed?
- What amount is taxable as "gains from the sale of capital assets"?
- What part of your unearned income is tax-exempt?
- What are the specific requirements for a married couple?

Proteins are essential constituents of the cells of all living tissues. The word protein is derived from a Greek word meaning "primary", which suggests its importance to life. Proteins are necessary to everybody, to help build new tissues, and to repair those tissues which wear out. Proteins cannot be stored in the human body, as are carbohydrates, and fats, but must be supplied regularly by eating animal or plant foods which contain them. Meat, fish, poultry, dried peas and dried beans are primary sources of protein.

RESULTS RELEASED

On Scholarship Foundation Questionnaire. Past and potential donors to the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation can rest assured that their contributions have been well spent in helping PHS graduates pursue varying educational goals, according to results of a recent questionnaire.

Foundation trustee Barbara Freedman designed the survey to examine the Foundation's degree of success. It sent the survey to recipients of its educational grants in Princeton High classes 1971 through 1974. Of the 94 graduates who received the questionnaire, 65 or more than two-thirds responded.

Of these, 20 have completed the post high school education or training they had planned and 41 are still attending school, including four who have returned to school after having interrupted their education to earn additional funds for tuition and expenses.

Only four recipients notified the Foundation that they had dropped out of school: one who dropped out for financial reasons hopes to return to school; two decided their specialized goals could be pursued without formal education; one, faced with personal problems at home, hopes to return to a school closer to Princeton.

3 Honor Graduates. Three grant recipients have been graduated with honors. Four are currently attending graduate school. An additional 20 were named to Dean's lists, honor societies, or received other recognition for academic accomplishment.

Five participated in varsity sports, with one young woman managing a men's tennis team and another winning an athletic scholarship. Four have participated in community volunteer programs. One instituted a recycling program at the school.

All but two of the recipients worked during the past year to meet educational and living expenses. Many participated in work-study programs at their schools. Among jobs held by young women recipients were pumping gas, performing with a symphony orchestra, and teaching English while spending a semester in Europe.

Young men worked at a variety of jobs in stores and offices and at manual labor, while one has spent summers as a merchant seaman in the Mediterranean, simultaneously perfecting his knowledge of foreign languages.

Financial Worries. About half of the recipients continuing in school say it will be difficult for them to finance the completion of their education. Cited as adding to financial worries are rising tuition costs and a tightening of financial aid to replace one year grants. Many are concerned about heavy debt from loans.

When asked if an extension of Foundation grants beyond the freshman year would be helpful, they were unanimous in support of the proposal, although one young man asked, "...where would you ever find the money?"

A grant recipient from the PHS Class of 1971 wrote, "I am forever in debt to all involved. I see my life coming into focus and I owe it to you...."

Another stated, "I want all of you to know that you have made me very proud to live in Princeton – to be one of those who has been given a start in life and the opportunity to learn. Thank you."

The foundation, totally supported by community contributions, attempts to help those members of each PHS graduating class who earnestly desire to continue their education or training but cannot obtain financial assistance from other sources or whose total need has not been met. Last year 18 members of the Class of 1975 shared $8000 in grants.

This year's Scholarship Awards Committee, co-chaired by Jeanne Katen and Marion La Bar and including Anne Cobb, Mary War, and PHS guidance counselor Ethel Thomas, will be receiving applications from members of the PHS Class of 1976 during March.

After a determination of the applicants' actual financial need by a professional financial aid advisor, the committee will interview the applicants and their high school guidance counselors. Decisions concerning grants

Down-to-Earth Notes

The ABC's of Land Use Variance Applications. We all know that the building moratorium in Princeton may be lifted at any time. We also know that there is a fair amount of open land, much of it in large tracts, still left in Princeton Township. We can safely assume that there are many developers waiting in the wings, in addition to those already "on stage", ready to take part in "improving" Princeton land.

We can also assume that many, if not most, of those developers will want to build something other than the present zoning ordinance allows, in which case they will need to apply for a land use variance. What I did not know, and subsequently discovered my ignorance was shared by many people, was exactly how a developer goes about requesting a land use variance and how interested citizens can best express their views on that request.

Since land developments which are large in size or high in density (or both) can have immediate and long range effects — economic, social, visual AND environmental — on Princeton as a whole, I thought it might be helpful to outline the steps covering a land use variance at the municipal level so people who wish to participate may know where, when, and how. (As of August 1 there will be a new State law affecting the procedures, but for now they are as follows).

Applicant's Procedure

1) Files for land use variance in the Building & Zoning Office in Township Hall, at least 10 days prior to the Board of Adjustment (otherwise known as Zoning Board) meeting at which application will be discussed. Once filed, applications are open to the public.

2) Must notify all property owners (even in other municipalities or counties) within 200 feet that he is requesting a use variance and publish a notice of application in the Legal Notices section of a local paper, both at least 10 days prior to the Zoning Board meeting on the application.

3) Must prepare an Environmental Information Statement on his proposed project.

Board Procedure

1) Zoning Board meets the fourth Wednesday of each month.

2) A land use variance application is presented and discussed at open meeting of Zoning Board (or as many meetings as necessary for full discussion), after which the Board's decision is announced. All discussion is now open to the public as a result of the Sunshine Law.

3) If Zoning Board recommends approval of land use variance, it goes before the Township Committee, which approves, rejects, or remands application to the Zoning Board for further information.

4) If Township Committee approves application, it goes before the Environmental Design Review Committee, an advisory committee to the Planning Board. After study of the applicant's site plan and Environmental Information Statement, the E.D.R. Committee reports to the Planning Board its recommendations. Use variance approval once given cannot be changed, but planning details can.

5) Following the report from the E.D.R. Committee, applicant's plans is presented for discussion at an open meeting of the Planning Board. Applicant may choose to reverse the order of appearances before the Zoning and Planning board.

Citizen Procedure

1) The Zoning Board meeting is the primary place for objectors or supporters to register their positions before an application is approved and sent on for further processing.

2) Persons interested in a specific land use variance application and unable to attend the meeting on it should write the Zoning Board prior to the meeting stating their positions and asking to have their letters included in the record. (They may also write even if they appear in person.)

3) Interested citizens may also express their views at Township Committee and Planning Board meetings on the land use variance application and site plan details, respectively.

The procedure is a complicated one, and may be further complicated by changing laws, but the foregoing is basically what would-be community participants need to know. It seems to me one aspect of this procedure as presently set up could use some improvement: the notice to the public at large when a land use variance request has been made. I don't believe that most people automatically read the Legal Notices section of a newspaper; and unless there has been previous publicity on an application, interested citizens may not find out about it until too late to participate intelligently or with sufficient preparation. I do not, however, have any constructive suggestions on how to solve that problem, unless some noble soul(s) volunteer to cover the Building and Zoning office 10 days before the monthly Zoning Board meeting! You? Me?

In any case, let's turn out in greater numbers when a land use variance application comes along. We have nothing to lose but our time, and we may help to keep our community a healthy one. In any case, Zoning Board meetings can be much more entertaining than the "boob tube"!

COLONIAL FOCUS SET

For Antiques Show. Dr. R. Peter Mooz, director of the Bowdoin College Museum of Art, will speak on "Colonial Portraiture -- The Conversation Piece in America" as part of the annual Princeton Antiques Show. The lecture will be Friday, March 26, at 11 a.m. in the Princeton Day School.

Dr. Mooz's lecture will consider a group of Colonial portraits in which the subjects are actively engaged in conversation, either with their contemporaries, or with such long-dead luminaries as Aristotle or Homer. This particular form reached a peak of excellence and popularity around 1778.

The Princeton Antiques Show, sponsored for the 17th year by the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey, will present 33 collections of fine American and European antiques spanning many categories. These include porcelain, cabinetry and fine furniture, toys, folk art, books and manuscripts, etchings and engravings, barometers and clocks, quilts, silver and goldwork, antique jewelry, firearms, marine artifacts, tools, paintings, and silk flower arrangements.

The 1976 show will follow its customary schedule at Princeton Day School. The opening cocktail preview for show patrons and their guests, will take place Wednesday, March 24, from 6 to 9.

Regular show hours will be noon to 10 Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26, and noon to 5 on Saturday. A la carte luncheon will be served buffet style on Thursday and Friday, from noon to 2. Sandwiches will be offered on Saturday during the same hours. Light snacks and refreshments will be available daily from 3 to 5.

College To Benefit. Patron's tickets are $12.50 per person and may be purchased from Mrs. Hallett Johnson, Pretty Brook Road. They entitle the bearer to attend the patron's preview without charge, and to unlimited visits to the show during the entire run. Non-patrons wishing to attend the Preview may purchase tickets at the door for $7.50 each. Such tickets entitle the bearer to one additional visit during Show hours.

Regular admission is $2.50 at the door or $2 in advance from the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey, 338 The Great Road. Children 7-12 years of age will be admitted for $1. Younger children will be admitted free if accompanied and supervised. Special discount group rates of $1.75 to groups of 25 persons or more, if tickets are purchased before the opening date, March 25.

The Princeton Antiques Show is a benefit for Wellesley College. Part of the profits go to the College Development Fund as an unrestricted gift, and part to the May Margaret Fine Fund, established in 1949 to provide financial aid to Wellesley students from the Princeton area. All ticket prices are tax deductible.

TREE PLANTERS NEEDED

In West Windsor. The West Windsor Recreation Commission will transplant a number of white pine trees onto the property between the high school and the tennis courts on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction this Saturday. The commission requests that interested township residents assist in transplanting these trees.

The trees will be transplanted between 9 and noon and coffee and donuts will be served to the workers.

Donating their back hoes and trucks are Dick Petty of Hightstown Road, Stan Perrine of Southfield Road, and Don Homan of Alexander Road. The volunteers are asked to bring shovels to fill in the dirt around the trees.

PAA PLANS WORKSHOP

Saturday at Its Studio. A soft sculpture workshop for young people, 9-15, will be held on Saturday at the Princeton Art Association's studio on Rosedale Road.

Soft sculpture involves the use, in sculptural form, of such materials as fabric, rope, plastic, etc. Participants may work on such projects as soft landscapes, pillows or pillow people.

The workshop will be under the direction of Eva Kaplan. Mrs. Kaplan, an instructor of young people's classes at the PAA, is on the faculty of Trenton State College. She will teach a mixed media course for ages 7-11 in the Art Association's Spring Session which opens March 22.

Fee for the workshop is $1.50, which includes all materials. All are invited; a call to the PAAA studio, 921-9173, will reserve a space.

MARCH EXHIBIT SET

On Ceramic Sculpture. During the month of March, the Color Wheel in Pennington will exhibit ceramic sculpture. The artist is Nancy J. Wall, an area resident and teacher at Hamilton High School West.

Originally from Bound Brook, Ms. Wall studied art at Wilkes College in Wilkes Barre, Pa. Her major field at that time was painting. Not until post-graduate study did she discover her affinity for ceramics. Since graduation she has studied at Tyler and continues to do independent work with Ilse Johnson at Trenton State College.

Technically, her non-functional ceramics range from high-fire porcelain to low-fire white stoneware. In content, her work has developed from whimsical, fairy tale-like constructions to sculpture dealing with internal earth forces. The surfaces of these hand-built pieces provide a palette for her experiments with lustres and underglazing.

The exhibit will continue till April 5. Shop and gallery are open daily, Tuesday through Saturday, from 9 to 5.

MIXED MEDIA SHOWN

At Loft Gallery. The Loft Gallery Center for the Arts, 306 Alexander Street, will exhibit the pastels of Jacqueline Chesley, the metal sculpture of Jim Gary and the collages of Barbara Minch beginning Saturday and continuing through the month.

Mrs. Chesley has studied with H. Bendixen in Oslo, Norway and with Wolf Kahn. She works in and around her home in Farmingdale and her landscapes depict New Jersey farmland and meadow. She works bold areas within strong compositions, using vibrant, unexpected hues.

Mr. Gary lives in Red Bank and has been a guest teacher at the Lawrenceville School. Known for his imaginative sculpture, such as dinosaurs made of auto parts, Mr. Gary will display smaller, free standing sculptures of animals in varying sizes and metals.

Mrs. Minch, a Cherry Hill resident, has won awards in art shows in New York and Pennsylvania. Many of two and three dimensional collages show children at play, dressing the figures for indoors and out and even depicting the games and play equipment.

The three artists will be at the Loft Saturday, March 13 to greet the public. The exhibit may be seen Tuesday through Saturday from 9 to 5. There is ample free parking.

SCULPTORS SOUGHT

For Skillman Competition. Sculptors between the ages of 16 and 19 who live in Mercer, Somerset or Hunterdon counties are invited to submit their work to a competition sponsored by the Sculpture House Inc., Camp Meeting Road, Skillman. Prizess will be three scholarships valued at $500, $300 and $200.

Pieces can be delivered to the Sculpture House on Saturday, May 1 between 10 and 3. Works not accepted for final competition should be picked up between 10 and 3 on May 8. The artist will be notified by mail as to acceptance or refusal. All final works should be picked up between 5 and 10 p.m., Sunday, May 16.

Materials worked in may be of wood, clay, plastelina, wax, plaster or any material of basic substance. The pieces entered must be in a completed state or deemed complete by the artist. No prefabricated or commercially produced objects will be accepted.

Works must not exceed one-foot radius at any point and three feet in height, nor weigh more than 150 pounds. The competition will be limited to not more than a total of two works by any one artist in any medium.

Clubs and Organizations

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association will hold a public informational meeting for its members to review the contents of the Environmental Assessment report to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority on Tuesday at 8 at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University. The panel will review the contents of the report and discuss the alternative plans for sewering the region. The report covers nine alternative plans and compares the environmental impacts and costs for each alternative.

The Mount Holyoke Club of Princeton - Trenton will meet Tuesday at 8 at the home of Mrs. Jeremiah Ford III, 635 Snowden Lane. Guest speaker will be H.H. Heins, historian and writer, whose subject will be the Millstone Valley and its part in the Revolutionary War.

The club will feature this area in its biennial house tour to be held April 24. Open to the public will be five houses, four of them pre-revolutionary, a blacksmith shop in continuous operation from 1693 to 1959, and a Dutch Reformed church. All proceeds from the tour provide scholarships to Mount Holyoke College.

Tickets at $5 are available from Mrs. Robert Winters, 10 Adams Drive.

The Lawrence Township Senior Citizen Club 2 will hold a Covered Dish Luncheon on Tuesday at noon at the American Legion Hall, 100 Berwyn Place, Lawrence Township as a Valentine's and St. Patrick's Day celebration. All members attending are requested to bring a covered dish. The meeting will be held after the lunch.

The Friday Club will meet Friday for lunch at 12:30 at the YWCA. Elizabeth Brown will give a talk on "The History and Cut of Clothes" using her collection of costumes from the past to illustrate her talk. Mrs. Brown was formerly in charge of the Costume Collection at Cornell University, and she is also a member of the Costume Society of America.

Those who need a ride may call the YWCA, 924-4825, before 11 Friday.

Solo, For Women In Transition, will be held on Friday, at 7:30 at the YMCA-YWCA, Avalon Place. The topic will be "Emotional Problems of the Family In Transition." Open to all women at no charge.

The second annual Purim Carnival, sponsored by the Jewish Community Council of the Windsors, will be held at the Kreps School, Kent Lane, East Windsor on Sunday, March 14, from 1 to 4. There will be games with prizes suitable for children of all ages. Refreshments will also be available.

The sponsoring organizations are the Beth Chaim Sisterhood and Men's Clubs; the Beth El Sisterhood and Men's Clubs; Bnai Brith Women,, Masada; Bnai Brith Women, Orah; Bnai Brith Men's Lodge; Hadassah, Hightstown-East Windsor; Hadassah, Twin Rivers; Jewish War Veterans; and Women's American ORT.

Call 443-1680 for further information.

La Leche League will begin its spring series of meetings Monday with a discussion of the "Advantages of Breast-feeding." Subsequent meetings will include discussions on "Breast-feeding: Getting it All together," "Getting Started as

Etchings and Drawings
by
Melissa Meredith

Young—beautiful—talented! An artist brimming with imagination in the realms of fantasy, humor, nature and the macabre.

In 1975 Melissa Meredith received a Master of Fine Arts degree from Pratt Institute for her culminating exhibition of etchings, entitled "Confessions of Fantasy." Her collection of antique dolls provided models for a series of enchanting flora and fauna illustrations.

Born in West Hartford, Connecticut twenty-five years ago, Miss Meredith received her B.F.A. from the College of New Rochelle. She also studied at Universita Internazionale d'Arte, Florence, Italy, Instituto d'Arte, Porto Romana, Florence, Italy; Scuola Statale, "Arte della Ceramica," Sesto Fiorentino, Italy, Studio di Joro Vivarelli and La Fondena di Bronzo, Pistoia, Italy. Institulo di Graphica, Florence, Italy.

She has participated in eight group shows in Connecticut, New York and Italy.

At the moment she is designing the record album jacket for Celebration—The Organ Music of Don McKeever.

In July 1976, Dodd, Mead will publish Mistletoe: Fact and Folklore by Gray Johnson Poole for which Miss Meredith has drawn the twenty brilliant illustrations, including the book jacket.

Our young artist is not resting on her laurels! She is working on both illustrations and texts of two unusual and delightful books of her own.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Lions Club will hold a dessert meeting Monday at 7:30 at the home of Ann Petrozzini. Plans for the forthcoming April Rummage Sale will be discussed. Proceeds of the sale benefit the yearly Scholarship Fund for medicine.

The American Association of Retired Persons will meet Thursday at 2 at the YM-YWCA on Avalon Place. Mrs. George Thomas, who spent a year with her husband at Berea College in Kentucky, will speak on "Kentucky and Berea." Mrs. Thomas was for 14 years chairman of the Adult School.

Princeton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has announced winners in its essay contest held during February as American History Month. The contest was open to all 7th and 8th graders, and the topic was "The Declaration of Independence." Winners of the bronze medal and Certificate of Excellence in History are Susan Akens, Liz Gutman, Christiana Horton, Miffie MacGregor, Bill McClelland, Victoria Rubin, Andrew Ross and Margaret Westlund.

The best paper, submitted by Andrew Ross, was sent to the State DAR to compete for a gold medal and a $100 U.S. Savings Bond. Essays were judged by Mrs. Carl C. Hoyler, Mrs. Samuel D. Lenox Jr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pearce.

A "Yankee Doodle Day" is the theme of the annual spring fair to be held by the West Windsor-Plainsboro PTA Saturday, May 22, from 11-4, at the Maurice Hawk School, Clarksville Road. A Bicentennial booth will be featured along with the usual popular games, rides, boutiques, foods and other events.

The fair, which is a major spring event in the two townships, is a substantial fund-raiser for PTA scholarships. Dick Harbourt will again chair the fair with Jean Muiznieks and Gen Stiefel as co-chairmen.

Booth chairmen include: Bette Kuehn, art; Ruth Edenbaum and Nancy Simon, gourmet and baked goods; Mary Graham, green thumb; and Helen Pesce, handicraft. In addition, Eleanor Pickens will be responsible for used jewelry, Joy Shin and Diane Cheyney for used books, Walter Dimitruk for used toys and Gwen Lockhart for white elephant items.

A bicentennial program on "What Your Ancestors Wore" will be presented to the Montgomery Woman's Club Thursday at 8:15 in the Rocky Hill branch of the First National Bank of Central Jersey.

Fashion historian and home economist Elizabeth Brown of Belle Mead will discuss the history of American clothing from 1620 to the past generation. Mrs. Brown, who has a master's degree in textiles and clothing, graduated from Cornell University, where she taught and was in charge of the collection of American costumes.

Prior to Mrs. Brown's talk, 19 women, including Mrs. Lewis Drake, Mrs. Maurice Duggan, Mrs. Marion Ott, all of Belle Mead, and Mrs. Arthur Firester of Skillman, will be installed as members of the Montgomery Woman's Club.

IN THE NATION'S SERVICE: George F. Kennan (left) of 146 Hodge Road, receives Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson Award from R. Menning Brown Jr., 50 Westcott Road, chairman of the University's Board of Trustees. Mr. Kennan, a professor at the Institute for Advanced Study, former ambassador to Russia, and a member of Princeton's Class of 1925, received the award for exemplifying the spirit of Woodrow Wilson's phrase, "Princeton in the Nation's Service." Mr. Brown, Class of 1936, is chairman of the board of New York Life Insurance. The presentation was made at the University's Alumni Day luncheon Saturday in Jadwin Gymnasium. (Marie Bellis Photo)

Mrs. Robert Timmerman will serve as chairman of hostesses. Assisting her will be Mrs. Steve Mitchell, Mrs. John Molls, Mrs. Charles Moorhead, Mrs. Graham Morbey, and Mrs. Dominique Nocturne.

The Great Jewish Thinkers Study Group will meet Tuesday at 8 at the Community House of the Jewish Center at 457 Nassau Street. The group will discuss the writings of Mordecai Kaplan, an American Jewish philosopher and religious reformer.

Senior Girl Scout Troop 690 will present the film "The Caine Mutiny" Friday at 7:30 at Maurice Hawk School. A short feature, "One-Eyed Men Are Kings," will also be shown. Tickets may be purchased from any member of Senior Troop 690 or at the door.

Proceeds from this film will be used to finance troop camping and service activities. The following members may be contacted for tickets and further information: Lori Venta, Sandy Boyd, Mary Ellen Wadman, Sally Steele, Laura Edwards, Sue Manduca, Mishka Rizzo, Kathy Baan, Nancy Hodges, Monica Macello, Shelia Hewitt (advisor), and Claudia Fogalin (assistant advisor), or call 799-2255 or 799-0169.

The New Jersey Watchmakers Association will meet Tuesday at 8:30 in the Holiday Inn, Route 1. All interested New Jersey watchmakers are urged to attend.

Dr. Joel Goldmacher and James Mulvey from Optel will present the program on "New Aspects of the Digital Watch".

Nail it down

There'll come a day when the old dog house won't be what it used to be. An additional room, a new roof or refrigerator, drapes, carpeting, maybe even a patio. And when the day comes it will be nice to know you have the money to make the necessary improvements. And the best way to be sure you have that money is to start saving now... and let Dollar Bull help you nail down those home improvements by retrieving more interest on your savings.

Higher Pool and Tennis Fees at Community Park

It will cost more this year to swim and play tennis at Community Park.

All general admission fees to the pool complex have been raised, as has the seasonal rate for individual resident and non-resident adult. In addition, the Recreation Department, which oversees the operation of the pools, will for the first time charge those participating in its instructional swim program. The fee is $4 per session for the first child, $2 for each addtional child in the same family

Tennis fees have been increased virtually across the board

The new fees, which appear below, represent the first boost in three years, R. Donald Barr, executive director of the Recreation Department, pointed out. He added that the increases were necessary because of the Recreation Department's commitment made to the Borough and Township governing bodies to meet operating expenses when the original funding ordinances were passed

As an example of the spiraling costs facing the department, Mr. Barr reported that ton containers of chlorine, which a few years ago cost $200, now cost $700.

The new fees, contrasted with last year's, are:

18TH CENTURY IS TOPIC Of Montgomery Lecture. Dr. Peter O. Wacker, chairman and professor of geography at Rutgers College, Rutgers University, will discuss "Social and Economic History of 18th Century New Jersey on Monday at 8 at Montgomery High School. This is the second session of the seven week Bicentennial Forum sponsored by the Montgomery Community School and the Montgomery Bicentennial Committee.

Dr. Wacker's specialty is cultural geography, which includes elements of history, geography and anthropology. Author of numerous articles, he has also written two books, "Muscenetcong Valley of New Jersey: A Historical Geography" (1968) and "Land and People, Volume 1, A Cultural Geography of Pre-Industrial New Jersey" (1975).

The public is invited; admission is $2.

BASEBALL TO BENEFIT

The annual Ice Skating Party sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Montgomery Township Baseball League will be held on Sunday from 7 to 8:30 at the Princeton Day School rink on the Great Road. General admission will be $1, and children 5 and under will be admitted free.

Tickets may be reserved by calling Darlene Spahn at 924-0993.

APPLICATIONS READY
For Day Nursery School. The Princeton Nursery School is accepting applications for admission for the coming Summer and Fall.

Located at 78 Leigh Avenue, the nursery school offers an accredited full-day child care program for children 27 months through pre-kindergarten, emphasizing each individual child's social and emotional development. Tuition is based on a sliding fee scale.

For further information call Jean Bosley, Princeton Nursery School, at 921-8606 or Linda Meisel, Family Service Agency at 924-2098.

HUNGER IN BANGLADESH
Lecture Topic Tuesday. Dr. Harold M. Turner, of Bronxville, N.Y., will deliver a lecture with slides on "Bangladesh as a Case Study in World Hunger," Tuesday at 8 in McCosh 10.

Formerly a librarian, and a lecturer at Columbia's School of Library Service, Dr. Turner has made several trips to Bangladesh and developed an extensive acquaintance with its problems of over-population and scarcity of food.

He describes Bangladesh as "a place where time has almost run out," and he argues that this is just the "leading tip of a world crisis." This event is presented by the Princeton University Chapel and is co-sponsored by Princeton Hunger Action. The public is invited.

Princeton Quintet Wraps Up Ivy Title Early as Penn Fades — Two More League Games Before NCAA Actions Starts March 13

After winning its first Ivy League title since 1969, and becoming the first team in the current decade to wrap up the championship a week before the season ended, Princeton's basketball team will play a pair of exhibition games Friday and Saturday against Cornell and Columbia. The contests on the road nonetheless have considerable meaning, offering the Tigers a chance to rank with the relatively few teams in Ivy history to post a perfect mark and to regain the sharp competitive edge necessary for NCAA action.

Princeton's first-round appearance in the post-season tournament will be Saturday, March 13, at the Civic Center in Providence, R.I. The Tigers' opponent is not expected to be named until Sunday, when most regional playoffs and conference titles have been decided.

Expectations are that they will face an independent eastern quintet, with the leading possibilities including Syracuse, Georgetown, Massachusetts and St. John's. Belief here is that while Rutgers is a certain NCAA contestant, the Tigers would not be paired to meet them in the opening round.

Bill Joins the Club. Friday night's 68-53 victory over Yale, a desultory contest marred by constant over-officiating, proved to be a crowd-pleaser because Armond Hill threw in 18 second-half points to give him a career mark of exactly 1,000.

Barnes Hauptfuhrer had become the 12th member of the club a week earlier, this pair of Tiger senior joining Geoff Petrie and John Hummer as the only two to do so in the same season.

The others? Bill Bradley, of course, leads with 2,503 more than 1,000 ahead of runner up Pete Campbell, who had 1,451. The rest are Bud Haabestad, Brian Taylor (in two seasons), Chris Thomforde, Ted Manakas, Carl Belz, Art Hyland and Jim Brangan. It is, of course, considerably more difficult to qualify for club membership today, because all one-shot fouls a team draws until a total of seven personals have been charged against it do not result in free throws.

Mired in a 4-20 season, including a string of six defeats dating back to late January, Yale nonetheless proved able to stay with a distinctly cold Princeton team during the first half. The Tigers themselves were bogged down with 62 percent foul shooting and some loose defensive play, and had to work for the last shot in order to leave the floor at the intermission ahead by 30 to 22.

When play resumed, a 25-8 outburst in the first nine minutes put the Blue away, and as Hill began to near the 25 points he needed in the game to reach 1,000, the crowd and the team began to concentrate on him. A twisting layup, two free throws and a jumper in the space of three minutes got him to 998, with with the final two coming on a give-and-go backdoor layup made possible by a pretty feed from Pete Molloy.

Bob Slaughter, almost invariably one of the most consistent players on the team, hit for 12 on 4-for-6 shooting and 4-for-4 at the line, but Hauptfuhrer needed 11 shots to make five field goals and missed four out of six free throws.

SPORTS In Princeton

Frank Sowinski, out for the previous five games with a severe charleyhorse, saw some action and will give Princeton welcome outside accuracy when his eye returns. Princeton's lead was as high as 25 points before Pete Carril cleared his bench once Hill had his career mark in four figures.

Intense Concentration. More than 18 minutes were left in the Brown game Saturday night when announcement was made that Yale's last-place team had upset Penn, 46 to 44, giving Princeton the league championship if it maintained its comfortable lead over Brown. The fans cheered lustily but Princeton players and coaches were so intent on the action that they paid little attention and did not realize they had won until they were back in the locker room at the end of the game.

Never behind, but never able to put Brown away despite moving out to a 52-32 lead early in the second half, the Orange and Black recorded its 12th straight Ivy victory this season and its 20th triumph overall. While a Brown quintet that was no better than 5-18 played some distinctly solid basketball, the Tigers rode home on the 31-point cushion provided (12-for-17 from the floor, 7-for-8 at the line) was not only a career high for the son of a former Harvard but marked the first time in four years that any Princetonian had topped the 30-point mark here.

Fifteen first-half points by Hauptfuhrer and 10 by Hill were more than Brown managed as a team, Princeton taking a 37-23 lead at the intermission. After increasing this margin to 20 shortly after play resumed, Princeton lost its concentration, Brown dominated much of the closing action and whittled its final deficit to 70-59.

Hill closed with 16 and Slaughter hit double figures again with 10. The continuing bad news was that All-Ivy Mickey Steurer's slump has grown worse. He failed to make a point in either of the weekend games and played only 13 minutes against Brown.

Sophomore guard Bill Omeltchenko was held out with a minor leg injury, with senior Pete Molloy playing 29 minutes during which he contributed eight picturesque assists for a team high. The Tigers need Omeltchenko and Sowinski in top shape for NCAA action, particularly since Steurer and Lon Ramati, the 6-9 center, have never regained the form that contributed much to the NIT championship last March.

After Yale upset Penn through judicial use of the stall, Princeton may well run into similar treatment Friday night at Ithaca. Cornell used slow-down tactics to great advantage when it was here three weeks ago, holding the Tigers to a lone field goal in the first 12 minutes and leading at the half, 15-14, before eventually succumbing, 53 to 35.

Columbia is more likely to hope for victory on the strength of run-and-shoot tactics on its own court. Princeton's margin in the first game with the Lions was 69-53.

IC4-A MEET HERE

77 Colleges Entered. The 55th annual Indoor IC4-A Track Meet will be held Saturday and Sunday in Jadwin Gymnasium, with several thousand followers of the sport expected to attend. Tickets at $4 for Saturday and $6 and $4 for the Sunday finals are on sale at the gym.

Playoffs Here Thursday

Metropolitan Division basketball playoffs in the Eastern College Athletic Conference will be held as a doubleheader Thursday night in Jadwin Gymnasium. All tickets to the event have been sold.

St. John's (21-4) will face St. Peter's (18-9) in the first game at 7, while Rutgers (26-0) goes against Long Island University (15-10) at 9. Winners will meet Saturday at Madison Square Garden, with the victor assured of a berth in the NCAA playoffs and the runner-up likely to be given strong consideration because the NCAA is looking for the 32 best teams in the nation. Both Rutgers (currently third) and St. John's have been in the top 20 throughout the season.

SPORTS FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an unusual baseball story ... It's a little-remembered fact today that several major league baseball teams once scouted Cuban dictator Fidel Castro when he was a young pitcher in Cuba years ago ... Just think how world history might have been changed if one of those teams had signed Castro and he had become a baseball pitcher in the U.S., instead of staying home and turning to politics.

Can you imagine a team scoring 151 points in a game – and losing it? ... It happened to the San Diego Rockets in 1969 when they set the all-time basketball record for a team scoring the most points and losing as they were defeated by Cincinnati, 165 to 151.

Did you know there was once a college basketball game in which both teams went through three periods without EITHER team scoring a point! ... When Western Illinois met St. Ambrose on Dec. 13, 1954, every time one team or the other got the ball they froze it throughout the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th quarters until the final seconds ... Then both tried to score, but missed ... Thus, there was no scoring at all by either team in the final three periods!

Princeton's chances of defending its two-mile relay title successfully have been impaired because of an honor won by its anchor man, Craig Masback. He qualified last week for the AAU team which will compete Saturday in Leningrad against Russia and will forego competition here as one of this country's two representatives in the mile run.

Masback won the Heptagonal mile last weekend at Ithaca, where Princeton tied for second with Harvard, each team compiling 36 points to trail Penn by three. Other victors were Chuck Hendrick in the 1,000-yard run; Dan Williges in the pole vault, and the Tiger two-mile relay quartet. Hedrick and Witliges are expected to be Princeton's top performers here this weekend.

Villanova has been cast in the role of Seton Hall's top challenger for the team title, the Pirates defending the championship they won last year for the first time. Maryland is also strong, with Penn the best balanced of the Ivies.

Twenty-two trial events are scheduled Saturday, starting at 11 and ending at 5:30, with finals to be held in the weight throw and long jump. On Sunday, 20 finals will take place between 1:30 and 4:30.

SKATERS SPLIT

Clarkson Upset, 3-2. Clarkson's hockey team came south from Potsdam, N.Y., last weekend intent on cementing its hold on fourth place in Division I of the ECAC, a spot that would ensure home ice advantage in the forthcoming playoffs. At Penn on Saturday, it lost a wild 12-10 affair; in Baker Rink Sunday afternoon, Princeton added a 3-2 upset to the New Yorkers' record, dropping them to fifth place in the rankings and putting them on the road for the first playoff game, in all probability at Cornell.

In the low-scoring contest, the count was still 1-1 with 15 minutes left in the game, John Van Siclen's goal for the Tigers having put them even after Clarkson had beaten goalie Robin Rollefstad on a two-man breakaway. Sophomore defenseman Henry Lane then gave the home team its first lead, which Clarkson promptly erased on a power play.

ON TO REGIONALS: Dave Robinson, PHS 122-pounder, placed second in the District 17 NJSIAA wrestling matches to advance to the Regionals. His record is 19-2-1.

Both teams were two men short when the odd goal in five went to Princeton. Appropriately, it was a pair of seniors playing their final game in Baker Rink who put it together, defenseman Ethan Warren scoring on a pass from forward Craig Dahl.

At Ithaca on Saturday, Cornell skated to an 8-2 victory over the Tigers, Lane and Frank Techar getting the Princeton goals. Senior Al Rosner aided on one of them, giving him 37 career assists for a place in the record book as a defenseman. Lane joined him over the weekend with 17, a new one-season mark.

The Orange and Black was scheduled to end its season Tuesday night against Penn at Philadelphia. Its weekend split pegged its record at 6-16-1.

LONE MAT SURVIVOR

Dave Robinson of PHS. When it was all over, only Princeton High School captain Dave Robinson among all the entrants from PHS and West Windsor managed to survive in the NJSIAA District 17 wrestling tournament held during the weekend at Hunterdon Central.

Seeded first in the 122-pound division, Robinson was pinned in 5:07 by Tom Andrews of Hunterdon Central in the finals, but still managed to advance to the Regional matches this weekend at Hunterdon Central since the runner-up of each class is eligible. Robinson, also District runner-up last year, had battled Andrews to a draw in a dual meet this year, but was trailing in points when he got pinned Saturday.

Mercer County's only champion was Hopewell Valley's 188-pound Rich deDufour who decisioned the defending champion, Dean Van Arsdale of North Hunterdon, 11-6.

Two others from this area joined Robinson in the runner-up circle. Andy Thoma, Hopewell Valley 129 pounder (19-4-1) was defeated by Jerry Miller, 9-4, of Hunterdon Central in the finals. Thoma had been seeded first.

In the 101-pound class, top-seeded Mike Johnston of Lawrence High School, son of Princeton University wrestling coach Johnny Johnston, was defeated in the finals, 11-1, by second-seeded Bob Hunt of Hunterdon Central. Johnston's record is 23-1.

PHS had two others reach the consolation round. At 129 pounds, sophomore Dave Wilson (13-6-2) was defeated 6-1 in overtime by Greg Devlin of Lawrence. Devlin and Wilson had been seeded third and fourth, respectively.

In the 158-pound class, fourth-seeded Terry Edwards of Steinert, decisioned the Little Tigers' Jim O'Grady, the third seed, 11-2.

West Windsor sent three men to the consolation round, two of whom won to finish third.

Rich Holcombe, the Pirates' fine 177-pound wrestler, pinned Bernard Salages of Hopewell Valley, to raise his season's mark to 20-2 and career effort to 37-4-1.

"That's a darn nice record," commented his coach Ken Bernabe, who indicated the senior might attend Trenton State College and wrestle for Mike Curry. He had been seeded second.

Chris Holcombe, a junior, increased his record to 18-3 when he decisioned Trenton's Ricky Lockett, 3-1. Two of his losses had been at the hands of deDufour who had pinned him Saturday afternoon in a semi-final match.

In the 115-pound class, WW's John Houtenville, seeded fourth, was defeated by Ewing's standout Brooks Thropp, 7-2. Thropp, seeded a home of your own!

EQUAL HOUSING LENDER

Princeton Savings can help you buy it.

If you think you should buy a new home or refinance your present one now, or wait for better economic conditions, chances are you would tell yourself to wait.

At Princeton Savings we feel that there are several reasons why you should do it now. Excellent mortgage rates are now in effect. Currently it is a buyers market and if you wait you may find that the home you want has increased in cost by several thousand dollars. (Over the last several years, local real estate prices have increased faster than the rate of inflation).

And most important, the portion of the principal you pay each month increases your equity. This plus any increase in value will become your gain. And all during your home ownership Uncle Sam helps by letting you deduct from your income tax all interest paid on your mortgage and your real estate taxes.

So while you may think the cost of money is high, it is far outweighed by the advantages of owning your own home. Right now, Princeton Savings has plenty of Mortgage Money available. We invite you to visit any of our four offices. Our Mortgage Counselors will be happy to see you.

third, entered the tournament with a 15-1 log.

As expected, Hunterdon Central, which placed 11 of 12 in the finals, and North Hunterdon dominated the tournament. "It was like watching a dual meet between the two," observed Bernabe. Hunterdon Central finished with 148 points, North Hunterdon had 90½ while Hopewell Valley was a distant third with 37. WW and PHS finished seventh and eighth with 18½ and 18.

Hunterdon Central captured nine of 12 individual championships, North Hunterdon one. The only other to win a title beside deDufour from another school was Jack Holthouse of Voorhees, seeded first at 108 pounds. He defeated Central's Rich Potash, 5-2, in the finals.

Mercer County wrestlers won 11 of the 12 consolation bouts.

PDS FIVE WINS TITLE

For Third Consecutive Year. The pressure is finally off the Princeton Day basketball team.

Considered to be so loaded with talent at the beginning of the season, the Panthers almost had to accomplish all that they did over the past three months to avoid the "disappointing" label. And playing under those conditions is sometimes harder than any other.

Blessed with such players as Frank Konstantynowicz, Billy Martin, Bill Baggitt and Randy Melville, it was obvious to all that no merely satisfactory season would suffice. So, last Saturday coach Alan Taback and his players did what was expected of them and won the Class B NJISAA Prep School state championship for the third year in a row to cap off PDS's best season ever.

The Panthers finished with a 20-3 mark, winning two tournaments in the process, before clinching the Class B title. The only goal that eluded them was a victory over Lawrenceville, something PDS has never achieved.

The pressure was always there to win; and the championship game Saturday against Pennington was a perfect example.

Panthers Favored. Twice earlier in the season PDS and Pennington battled into overtime, before the Panthers won, once by one point, the other by two. Led by their fine center Bob Potts, the Red Raiders had a 20-5 mark going into the final game, but the Panthers had to be considered the favorite, on the strength of those two victories.

Not unsurprisingly this contest, too, went right down to the wire, before Princeton Day pulled it out with nine seconds remaining, 41-39. As both games before it, the game was a tightly-played, low scoring affair.

PDS got out in front early and earned an 18-11 advantage at the end of the first quarter. Randy Melville and Potts did most of the scoring, but Potts picked up three personals in the process. When he was taken out in the second period, Taback figured his team would be able to increase its advantage. However, during the second, this was not the case. "We were pretty tense out there," Taback explained, "and I figured if we could not open it up here, it was going to be close the rest of the way."

So, at the beginning of the second half Taback ordered his players to slow the tempo way down, into a semi-stall to move Pennington out of its zone defense and into a man-to-man. "If it was going to be close, I wanted us to be controlling the ball, Taback said. The Red Raiders eventually complied, but PDS was unable to capitalize on some easy scoring chances.

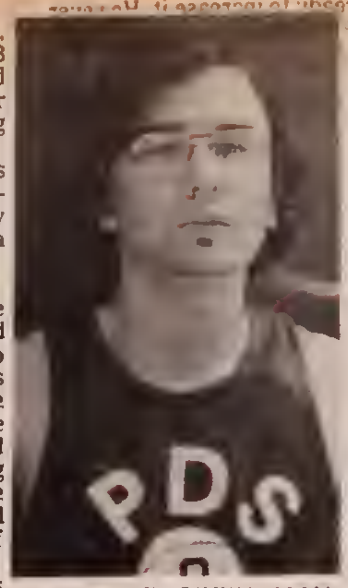
Pennington, meanwhile managed to tie the game in the third quarter, when PDS could only score four points, and eventually went ahead 39-37 in the fourth quarter with less than a minute remaining when Potts stole a backcourt pass and scored.

Baggitt brought the Panthers even at 39 all when he converted a perfect pass from Konstantynowicz into two points. Trying to put his team back in the lead, Potts was called on a charging violation, and Baggitt went to the line with nine seconds remaining.

His first shot on a one-and-one situation missed, but Billy Martin was there to snag the rebound and put in a follow up shot. Pennington still had one last chance to tie with one second remaining, but the pressure worked in PDS's favor this time. Pennington freshman Fred Falchi was fouled, but missed his first shot on a one-and-one.

Melville finished with 18 points to lead all scorers. Konstantynowicz didn't score, but played a fine floor game and picked up several key assists.

Earlier in the week, the Panthers had advanced to the finals in the tournament with a 80-59 thumping of Wardlaw. Melville and Baggitt both had 20 points; Konstantynowicz, 19.



VALUABLE SIXTH MAN: Chris Szuter, a senior guard for Princeton Day, came off the bench on two occasions this past week to help the Panthers win the Class B title for the third consecutive year.

LEAGUE SEEKS MEMBERS

For Softball Season. The Princeton Business Softball League is reorganizing and is looking for new teams to participate in what promises to be an exciting year of softball action. It is a slow-pitch league, with teams playing in two separate divisions and a meeting in a play-off at the end of the season.

The first games are held in early May, the date depending on how many teams are in the league and what fields are available. Business firms and other organizations wishing to field a team should contact Wesley Cawley at 921-6100 for more details. An organizational meeting will be held this month for those interested in the league.

Teams now playing in the league include the perennially strong Educational Testing Service, which last year represented the state of New Jersey in the national championship tournament, where it finished 13th. Others include McGraw-Hill, E.R. Squibb, RCA, the First National Bank and Firmenich.

'USTINOV AT WIMBLEDON'

Public Is Invited. Peter Ustinov's wit and exciting tennis is the attraction of the annual Community Tennis meeting to be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the John Witherspoon School cafeteria. Dramatic coverage of the 1975 tennis championships in England is contained in the hour-long film, "Ustinov at Wimbledon."

This account in color offers the outstanding matches and behind-the-scenes shots of the stars, flavored with Ustinov's humorous commentary on the changing face of Wimbledon. A memorable section is the dramatic finals between Arthur Ashe and Jimmy Connors, as well as Billie Jean King's defeat of Evonne Goolagong. There is no admission charge.

Princeton Community Tennis Program instructors and leader corps members will meet at 7 to receive their spring teaching assignments. The annual business meeting of the Tennis Committee and the Youth Tennis Foundation will be held immediately after the film. During the meeting, Princeton area youngsters will receive recognition for 1975 Middle States rankings and leader corps awards.

SEASON ENDS WELL

For PDS Hockey Team. An up and down season ended on a high note for the Princeton Day hockey team last Saturday, when it defeated Lawrenceville School, 4-2, in the finals of the PDS tournament.

Several one-goal defeats during the month of January had put the Panthers on a losing streak, that was turned into a winning one in February, but only against a bunch of rather weak teams.

This past weekend PDS won two contests against good competition to finish with a 10-7 mark overall. On Friday in the opening round, the Blue and White knocked off Williston School, 4-2, while Lawrenceville nipped Hill, 2-1.

The finals on Saturday put the Panthers against Lawrenceville, which had won two previous contests between the schools this winter. And after the first six minutes, it looked as if a repeat of the first two was inevitable.

Although the action was about even, the Larries owned a 2-0 advantage after the first six minutes, and appeared ready to increase it. However, PDS kept pressing and it paid off.

Midway through the second period, Tim Brush got the Panthers on the scoreboard, assisted by David O'Connor and Murray Wilmerding. Just three minutes later, the Blue and White drew even when Mark Zwadsky tallied on passes from John Haraldson and Mark Blaxill.

Then in the third period, Steve Judge, named the tournament's most valuable player, put in the go-ahead goal, unassisted. Haraldson scored an insurance marker with eight minutes left, assisted by Blaxill and Zwadsky.

Lawrenceville outshot PDS 27-20, but goaltender Rich Olsson played a steady and consistent game for the Blue and White.

Against Williston on Friday, PDS got on the scoreboard first, when Bill Erdman scored a power play goal, assisted by Judge.

A let-down in the second period allowed the visitors to take a 2-1 lead, but defenseman Jim Daubert soon evened the score on a perfect shot. Judge and Tom Moore got the assists.

The go-ahead goal didn't come until 3:08 left in regulation time, when Haraldson scored, assisted by Blaxill and Zwadsky. With less than a minute left Moore made it, 4-2, assisted by Judge.

PHS ENDS WITH WIN

Tops West Windsor. The PA announcer calls him "Downtown." He wears one white sneaker, one red one. He often becomes so intense that it affects his shooting.

But when Felix "Downtown" Brown is loose, there is no finer shooter from the corner in the county. The 6-3 senior was in form Friday, hitting for 22 points to lead the Princeton High School basketball team to a 72-67 victory over visiting West Windsor – its final regular game of the season.

The 22-point performance was Brown's second in a row. "There's not a better shooter from the corner anywhere," said PHS coach Marv Trotman. "When he and Ian (White) are on, it makes it easy."

Princeton ended regular season play with a 14-7 record – defeating every county team at least once with the exception of Trenton. "This is probably not the best team I've had since Bailey (the PHS, Tony Bailey-led team – Trotman's first full year as head coach – won 18 and lost 6) but it's been the most enjoyable season," commented Trotman.

"We Won Our Share." "We won our share, we played well together. They're a great bunch of kids. Now we're starting another season," he said, refering to the NJSIAA post-season tournament.

For most of the afternoon, it appeared that the final with West Windsor would be one of Princeton's easier wins. When Brown and Junior Oldham, the team's leading scorer, each hit for 10 in the first half, PHS led 43-43-32 at the intermission and had maintained that lead – 68-56 – with 3:29 left to go.

Suddenly, with the Pirates' Tom Murphy leading the way, West Windsor reeled off ten straight to climb within two with 30 seconds left. Then after PHS called a time out to talk things over, PHS brought the ball up court.

Brown took a pass near the basket and went up, only to have the burly Murphy knock the ball away. But not with impunity. Referee Bill Munley said that Murphy had hit the board. He ruled basket interference and awarded Brown two points.

Murphy added a free throw with four seconds left and Martin Gilvarg had a basket at the buzzer for PHS to round out the scoring. Gilvarg ended with six, to the great delight of the PHS fans. They were the only points he had scored all season.

CORNER MAN: Felix Brown, purest shooter on the PHS quintet, ended the season with 44 points in his last two games, most from his favorite spot in the corner.

"I don't think the score should have been as close," said Trotman. "It's a tribute to them we couldn't put them away."

In addition to Brown's 22, Oldham had 16 (he was in double figures for every game except one) and White had 10. Robbie McPherson added 9 and Fred Berkelhammer, another reserve, who played very little this year, had four – his personal high.

Murphy led all scorers with 24.

Lose to ND, 71-59. Earlier in the week, PHS was tripped up by Notre Dame, 71-59, after leading 16-9 at the end of the first period. PHS had defeated the Irish on its own court, 58-53.

"We went to Notre Dame last year and got one foul shot. This year we got two. That should tell you something about the game," said Trotman. PHS missed on one.

McPherson picked up two fouls in the first minute of play and his third before the end of the half. With Robbie on the bench, Ed Fireall and Joe Kale led a second-half ND rally, Fireall tossing in 23 points and Kale 18. ND ended up shooting 59 percent to 46 for PHS.

Brown (22) and Oldham (18) were the only PHS players to reach double figures. "You can't take anything away from them, they played a good game," said Trotman.

TOURNEY SATURDAY

For Hockey All-Stars. The Princeton Pee Wee Hockey Club will hold its first invitational tournament for 10 and under all stars this Saturday at Baker Rink.

The Princeton team is led by Ebe Metcalf with an unofficial 16 goals, Frank McDougald with eight, and Tom Haroldson with seven goals. They are joined by Andy Hawkes, Brian Johnson, Michael Meggitt, and Cub Peter on the first and second lines and Ned Desmond, Peter Engels, and Peter Houston on defense. Stephen Bordes and Grant Crawford are the goaltenders.

Chris Carrington, Ted Curtin, Jackie Cook, Peter Stabler, and John Sheppard make up the third team. Coaches Fritz Blaicher and John Cook have brought the boys through a difficult schedule and shortage of practice time to three wins, seven losses, and four ties.

The tournament will begin at 8:30 a.m. when Princeton faces off against Delmont from Villanova, Pa. The second game is at 10 a.m. between Lawrenceville and Rye Skating Club, Rye, N.Y. Consolation and Championship games will be at 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Admission is free.

BUILDING TO BEGIN

In West Windsor. The Mercer County Economic Development Commission has announced two industrial construction projects to be started this year.

Archie T. Sabin, the Commission's executive director, said that one of the projects is in the Princeton-Windsor Industrial Park, located in West Windsor Township. A 40,000 square-foot building will be constructed. Some 10,000 square feet have been allocated to International Compumedics Corp. for the manufacture of medical equipment, and 15,000 square feet will be occupied by Pak-Master Inc., which packages educational and industrial products.

The other project is a 40,000 square-foot building to be constructed in the West Windsor Park for administrative headquarters for the New Jersey Hospital Association.

VICE PRESIDENT NAMED

By Princeton Bank. Princeton Bank and Trust Company has announced the promotion of Myles R. Callaghan to vice president in the bank's trust department. He previously was a trust officer and assistant secretary.

Myles R. Callaghan

With Princeton Bank since 1962, Mr. Callaghan started his career with Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City. He is a graduate of Rider College with a bachelor of science degree in business administration. He also attended Pace University in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Callaghan and their two children reside at 38 Monroe Drive, Mercerville.

Lawrenceville in the semi-final round of the state prep school Class A Championship, Ron Payton, Hun's 6-4 sophomore center, went over the 1,000 career mark with his second basket of the game but despite Payton's game-high 32 points, Hun was eliminated by the Larries at the Pennington School gym, 92-76.

In addition, Hun's scheduled showdown Friday with Pennington School for the undisputed lead in the Penn-Jersey League where both teams are undefeated was postponed because Pennington had to play Princeton Day School in the finals of the state prep school Class B Championship. That all-important game was scheduled to be played this Wednesday afternoon at Hun.

This Friday and Saturday the top four teams in the Penn-Jersey League – Hun, Pennington, Perkiomen and Germantown Friends -- will vie in a playoff for the League championship.

The Hun-Lawrenceville contest was highlighted by two outstanding performances – the Larries' Jim Sweeney matching that of Payton – and a rousing comeback try by Hun that almost succeeded.

Led by the shooting of Sweeney, Lawrenceville had taken a 50-33 halftime lead. But Hun caught fire in the third period scoring 14 consecutive points behind the shooting of Terry McEwen, who had eight points in the surge and Nick Brady to cut the margin to nine.

In the final period, Payton and Tom Dillione combined to bring the Red and Black within three, 79-76, with three minutes to play, but Hun was unable to maintain the pressure.

"We just didn't have enough," said Hun coach Dave Leete. "We let them get too much in front in the first half." Leete added that the game was a lot closer than the score indicated "because we had to foul at the end to get back in the game and it didn't work."

Lawrenceville scored seven of its last nine points from the foul line where it enjoyed a 26-14 edge, hitting 26 of 31. It was a torrid 20-for-36 from the floor in the first half.

Payton scored 17 of his points in the second half as he raised his season's mark to 445. He also grabbed 16 rebounds – ten in the second half to trigger Hun's comeback which twice had brought Hun to within two, 61-59 and 70-68.

Barring injury, Payton has a better than even chance of breaking the 2,000 point barrier before he leaves Hun and will surely better the current career record of Tony Trani who scored 1,301 points.

That afternoon, however, even Payton had to take a back seat to Sweeney, who poured in 30 points, pulled down 11 rebounds, had nine of his team's 14 assists and was 12-for-12 from the foul line.

Sweeney received a lot of offensive support from Pat Ehret, 22 points and 13 rebounds, Tony Trani, 18 points, and Dale Evans, 14. Nick Brady and McEwen each finished with 14 for Hun while Dillione had 10.

SOCCER SIGN-UPS SET

For Club Competition. Formal registration for the spring program of the Princeton Soccer Club is 9 - 12 Saturday, March 13 at Valley Road School. This will be followed at noon by a clinic for all coaches. Those who are unable to register in person may do so by mailing in applications to The Princeton Soccer Club, P.O. Box 71, Dillon Gymnasium, Princeton University.

Information sheets and registration forms are available from the Princeton Soccer Club and from coaches and athletic directors at area schools. Further details can be obtained by calling 452-4977, days, and 924-5613, evenings. March 22 is the final date for registration for the spring program.

GENGLER WINS TITLE

In College Squash. Princeton University sophomore Nancy Gengler won the National Intercollegiate Squash Racquet Championship last week at Dartmouth when she defeated Yale sophomore Liz Munson in the finals, 14-18, 15-14, 15-8, 15-11.

Amy Knox, Princeton junior, was eliminated by Munson in the semis after winning the first two sets, 13-15, 14-16, 16-15, 15-9, 15-6. Emily Goodfellow, the Princeton team captain, had lost to Gengler, 15-7, 15-11, 15-9. It marked the third consecutive year that Princeton has won the event.

In the new intercollegiate rankings for 1976-77, Gengler is number one followed by Munson, Knox and Goodfellow.

TWO GAMES SATURDAY

Basketball Benefit Planned. Three Mercer County police departments and a West Windsor-Plainsboro High School faculty team will play Saturday in their third annual basketball classic for the benefit of the Mercer County March of Dimes.

They will try to exceed the $1400 raised last year for March of Dimes birth defect programs in a doubleheader at the West Windsor-Plainsboro High gymnasium.

The first game will start at 7, matching Princeton Borough against Princeton Township. The nightcap will send West Windsor against the high school faculty at 8:30.

A donation to the March of Dimes will be collected at the door.

13 GAMES IN LACROSSE

First is March 10. Princeton University's lacrosse team will play 13 games this season according to the schedule announced by athletic director Royce N. Flippin, Jr.

The Tigers will open their season at home on March 10 against Syracuse. Other home foes include Johns Hopkins, Yale, Cornell, Army and Penn.

On the road, the Tigers face Fairleigh Dickinson, defending national champion Maryland, Navy, Brown, Dartmouth, Harvard and Rutgers.

Princeton enjoyed its first winning campaign since 1967 last year while posting an 8-6 record and finishing 10th in the final national rankings. It was the first time the Tigers had won eight games since 1953.

With numerous standout lettermen returning, some excellent sophomores up from last year's freshman team and a corps of promising freshmen, who will be eligible for varsity play this year, coach Art Robinson is pointing toward a spot in the NCAA playoffs in May.

The schedule: March 10, Syracuse; 20, at Fairleigh-Dickinson; 27, at Maryland. April 3, Johns Hopkins; 10, at Navy; 14, at Brown; 17, Yale; 24, at Dartmouth. May 1, at Harvard; 4, at Rutgers; 8, Cornell; 12, Army; 15, Penn.

REGISTRATION SET

For Baseball in Montgomery. The Montgomery Township Baseball League for boys and girls 9 through 15 will hold registration for the season on Saturday, March 6, and March 13 from 9 to noon at the Community Meeting House, Harlingen Road off Route 206. Registration fee is $15 per person and $25 per family.

'GOWN' HOSTS 'TOWN'

In Mixed Tennis. Eleven men and seven women from this area teamed up last weekend with 18 Princeton University varsity players of the opposite sex for a "mix and match" tourney at the Jadwin tennis courts.

The teams narrowed down to finalists Al Hollander and women's varsity team member Debbie Campbell versus Jacqueline Parmele and men's varsity player Mike Kushma -- which the former couple won in two hard-fought sets. In the consolations, Steve Kraft and Princeton's Linda Rice beat Adele Simmons and varsity captain Bill Dutton in three close sets.

Other non-varsity players were Bill and Merrily Baker, Bill Burks, Sydnor Penick, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lapidus, Tom Raleigh, Julia Rudy, Karen Bull, Roome Parmele, Edith Postel, George Eager, John Simmons, and Joseph Nunez. All entry fees for this event were given to the Friends of Princeton Tennis at the University for the benefit of the varsity team.

News Of The CHURCHES

PASTORS OBJECT

To U.N. Resolution. Fourteen members of the Princeton Pastors' Association have issued a statement objecting to the United Nations anti-Zionism resolution passed in November.

That resolution, which termed Zionism "a form of racism and racial discrimination," was criticized by the Princeton pastors because it "does not help the cause of peace or justice in the Middle East and indeed hinders it by opening up and reinforcing old anti-Jewish hates and prejudices."

The Princeton statement was signed by Ronald Dyson, James R. Whittemore, Eugene Errickson, Richard N. Crisman, Ernest L. Gordon, John J. Endebrock, Arlo Duba, William Kirby, Allen A. Gartner, A. Orley Swartzentruber, Wallace M. Alston Jr., Cotton Fite, Blan Aldridge, and Kenneth Dannenhauer.

"The story of modern Palestine is the story of two wronged peoples," the pastors state. "The land, which passed from Turkish to European control at the end of the first World War, became in the 1930's and '40's a refuge for Jews and correspondingly an endangered possession for Arabs....

"We, as Christian pastors, for whom Palestine is also a sacred land, view this struggle with compassion for the peoples of that land and for Arabs and Jews in our community. The rights and wrongs of the controversy are too complex and intertwined to be disentangled or assessed in a brief study and simple statement. We believe a solution requires not inflammatory propaganda and rhetoric but sober proposals to help each side modify positions that are unacceptable to the other."

PRAYER DAY SCHEDULED

Friday at Trinity. World Day of Prayer will be celebrated Friday for the 90th year in 169 countries. This ecumenical celebration is sponsored by the International Committee for World Day of Prayer and arranged for in this country by Church Women United.

All are invited to join the worldwide fellowship at noon at Trinity Episcopal Church, 33 Mercer Street. Leslie Kolbjornsen of the staff of Nassau Presbyterian Church will speak on "Education for All of Life." The Oratorio Choir of Westminster Choir College, directed by Dennis Shrock, will sing two anthems. Daphne Hawkes of Trinity Church will lead the scripture lesson.

Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox women share in an offering devoted chiefly to education. Colleges for Asian and Middle Eastern women will benefit as well as the Committee on Christian Literature for Women and Children.

Harriet Chase chairs the committee which is a part of Church Women United of Princeton.

QUIET, PLEASE

Contemplation at Trinity. Father William McNamara, founder of the Spiritual Life Institute of America and a man who believes Americans need to learn new ways of prayer and contemplation, will lead a "quiet day" this Saturday from 10 to 3 at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Persons wishing to hear, pray, contemplate – mostly contemplate – with Father McNamara are asked to bring a bag lunch to Trinity, at 33 Mercer Street.

Persons interested in only hearing Father McNamara may show up at either the 9:15 or 11:15 services Sunday at Trinity, when he will be preaching.

Father McNamara has developed contemplative centers in Arizona and Nova Scotia and spends much of his time at these two places. He also leads retreats and quiet days throughout the country. This is his second visit to Princeton.

LENTEN LECTURES SET

At St. Paul's. The Rev. William J. Bausch, pastor of St. Mary's Church in Colts Neck, will be the guest speaker at a series of four Lenten lectures at St. Paul's Church.

The lectures will be held from 8 to 10 in the church hall on Tuesday evenings, beginning March 9. Registration of $2 per person for the series should be sent to the Education Committee of the church, at 214 Nassau Street. The committee is chaired by Edna Luther.

Topics for the lectures will include "Renewal, Past and Present," March 9; "The History of Penance," March 16; "The New Rite of Penance," March 23; and "The Parish as Community," March 30.

BULLETIN NOTES

Gail McArthur, a student at the Princeton Theological Seminary, will offer a six-week course at the Princeton United Methodist Church, beginning this Sunday at 4, on the parents' role in the religious development of their children. Call 924-5129 for information.

A program of music for organ and orchestra will be presented Monday at 8 in the Miller Chapel of the Princeton Theological Seminary. James Litton will play the organ. Joseph Kovacs will conduct the Collegium Musicum of Princeton.

The Parish Council of St. Paul's Church will meet Monday at 8 in the Parish Hall. The program will be on the abortion issue. The public is invited.

The women's division of the Princeton Jewish Center will meet Wednesday, March 10, at 8:15 p.m. Marion Roemer will show how to make hammentashen with various fillings. A special hour with refreshments will follow.

Topics of the Town

will be announced at Senior Class Night in June.

Tax deductible contributions may be mailed to: Foundation, Princeton High School, Box 711, Princeton, N.J. 08540. Checks should be made payable to Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation or PRSF.

FORUM

With Democrats. Local community needs and problems, especially those jointly affecting the Borough and Township, will be the subject at the monthly meeting of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization to be held next Wednesday, March 10, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

Borough Council president Martin P. Lombardo and Township Mayor Jay Bleiman, both Democrats, will open the meeting with comments on the major needs and problems of the town as they perceive these needs. The eight elected Democratic local office-holders have been invited to attend, and will also comment.

Three specific areas of community interest will be on the agenda: parks and recreation, local publicly-subsidized transportation and housing and regional community planning. Each will be considered in terms of local taxes.

The meeting has been designed to provide a forum where Democrats who hold office and those who gave them office, may discuss the role of the Democratic party in meeting community needs.

BUSING AUTHORIZED

Along Hazardous Route. The West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional School Board has authorized its superintendent to offer bus transportation to the parents of Princeton Ivy East high school students presently traveling a hazardous route to their school. The action came as a result of a letter from a Princeton Ivy parent expressing concern over the safety of pupils who will have to cross South Mill Road next year. Investigation by school officials indicated that this route was dangerous and the Board sought to correct the hazard immediately.

In other matters the Board received a status report on the activities of the Special Services department from its coordinator, Donald Appleby. Among the topics he discussed were referral procedures, the resource room at the Dutch Neck School, speech therapy, and the Big Brother-Big Sister Program, conducted in conjunction with Princeton University.

The Board also approved, after second reading, policies on nonresident students and the investment of school district funds. The Board also approved, after first reading, policies on open board meetings, orientation of new school board members, and candidates for School Board elections. The Board also established an annual fee of $10 to persons requesting a weekly mailing of all meeting dates and committee dates of the board of education.

Walter Golden, clerk of the works, reported that construction progress was quite slow at the Dutch Neck School. He indicated that as soon as the fire alarm system was connected the hot lunch program could begin.

The Board approved a number of substitute teachers, changes in salary guides and two new teachers as well as a number of non-instructional appointments.

Mrs. Dilatush Cited. Richard S. Snedeker, Board president, noted that Mrs. Elfriede Dilatush would complete three years of service as a School Board member at the conclusion of the meeting. He complimented her on doing an effective job of representing the residents of Plainsboro.

The next regular monthly meeting of the Board will be held on Tuesday, March 23, in Room 200D of the high school.

DRIVING COURSE SET

At YMCA. The third annual Defensive Driving Course, created by the National Safety Council and sponsored jointly by the AARP-NRT and the YMCA, will be held on Saturday, March 13, and Saturday, March 20. Classes will be held at the YMCA, Avalon Place, beginning at 8 a.m. and lasting until noon.

Students completing the course will be awarded certificates which will entitle them to membership in the National Defensive Driving League, which in turn entitles them to a reduction in cost of auto insurance. The course also aims toward achieving driving excellence and avoiding accidents.

Officially certified instructors for the course are J.C. Goelz and E. Reeves Black. There is a $2 tuition fee.

Sympathy Expressed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of an open letter the Gay People of Princeton have sent to President Bowen:

In view of recent events on campus involving members of the Gay Alliance of Princeton, we feel it fitting to voice our conviction that gay persons must be able to lead their lives without undue emphasis being placed on their "affectional and sexual preferences." Although not affiliated with the Gay Alliance, as gay people our sympathies naturally fall with our neighbors.

It is likely that those responsible for the vandalism believe they acted with the implicit support of the community. And so it is important not only for justice to be done in this case, but that it be made clear that the community will not tolerate ignorance and bigotry.

We trust that the University will exercise fairness in the resolution of this unpleasantness.

Loop Bus Most Useful.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am very happy that there is the Loop bus in the Borough. I take it every week to Clay Street to visit and very often to the Shopping Center.

When I ride the bus there are lots of people on it– older people, children and shoppers going to the Center and Palmer Square. It is better than the Trenton bus which makes you walk five or six blocks to the hospital.

I would like to thank the people who are trying to keep the bus, like Mr. Medvin, and hope they will be successful. It is very important to the older people in town.

More Top-Rated Films Asked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In a town which more or less prides itself on its cultural benefits (of which there are many) and has access to the finest in music, theatre, art and dance, etc., I find it totally baffling that for the last six or eight months we really have not had a top notch movie shown here. Money makers, yes, but truly good pictures, no. What they have had manages to play for months on end, witness "Jaws," "Lucky Lady" and so on.

Are we never to see such highly acclaimed pictures as "Barry Lyndon," "The Magic Flute" and "The Story of Adele H?" Why must we constantly settle for mediocrity?

COZY, COMPACT AND LOADED with potential charm, this brand new in town listing has more space than meets the eye at first sight. Big handsomely panelled living room with dining end, study (or bedroom) with bookshelves and bath, kitchen presently condensed but easily expandible back into a sunny charmer -- these cover the first floor with three bedrooms and a bath above. The pretty brick living room fireplace adds warmth in the winter, while central air adds summer coolth! A secluded fenced garden, complete with trees and protective greenery, is pretty to look at or to sit in. Since the house has been rented for some time, it needs a bit of sprucing up; but for all this within a stone's throw of everything how can you go wrong for an asking price of $55,000

Henderson, Of Course

MAJESTIC! In the tranquil setting of Olden Lane, we have one of Princeton's most coveted houses. Sturdily built in the 20's, and richly restored just five years ago, here is one of the finest properties for a comfort-loving family. There is a perfect blend of stone and clapboard on the outside with huge trees, and a magnificent terrace nestled privately midst the gardens behind the notable English fencing. Warm panelling, marble fireplaces and expansive mouldings highlight the gracious rooms, divided into family living and entertainment areas! Perfect patterns throughout the downstairs and six colorful bedrooms with three and a half baths! A family kitchen has been added, too, with every built-in imaginable! Offered with a half acre at $230,000 with more land available.

JUST LISTED THIS WEEK . . . .

A MINI FARM IN THE HORSE COUNTRY...a 150-year-old restored colonial ...stone & fireplaces...seven acres, a barn, garage and pool. really neat! $128,500

STUNNING AND STURDY spectacular ranch house on Province Line Road with a Princeton address. Two and a half acres of carefully planned lawn and plantings. The gracious foyer boasts an Italian marble floor, powder room, Shoji sliding screen leading to the dining room which in turn has sliding glass doors leading to a covered slate terrace. The larger than usual living room features a fireplace of Tennessee marble with a raised hearth and an entire wall of teak, sliding glass doors leading to yet another covered slate terrace with a view of the private grounds and woods: Kitchen has every modern convenience imaginable including dining and laundry areas: panelled study or bedroom with bath, Master suite with bath and dressing room, hall bedroom or study, private guest suite with its own foyer, two bedrooms and bath. $149,500

TWO-WAY VIEWING...It affords ranch-like living on one floor, while virtually doubling the space on the lower level (which can ony be seen from the back! Foyer, living room with fireplace that opens as well to the dining room, fully equipped kitchen with dining area, master bedroom and bath, two other bedrooms and full bath. A wonderfully bright house with a deck across the back of it from which to enjoy the woods and brook! Downstairs: family room with floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace, two bedrooms (or one may be a den) and full bath. Utility room, too. The bedrooms and family room all have French doors opening to the patio. 2.78 acres. $115,000

SPINE-TINGLING...our most unusual architect-designed circular contemporary in a sylvan wonderland of magnificent plantings, tall trees, pool and...privacy! Two levels of living combine the best features for open informal entertaining, yet provide unlimited nooks and corners for a family of individual tastes and interests. The main level overlooks the planned gardens, expansive deck and neighborhood lake. The outdoors is brought in by ground-to-ceiling thermopane box bay windows, sliding glass doors, and a commanding skylight over all! Of course, this innovative plan includes the usual amenities of kitchen and dining areas, bedrooms, library, studio, baths and more, but it is the extraordinary way it is all "put together" that must be seen! On and a half acres of au natural land. $147,500

A LOOK AT THE PAST

In the summer of 1709, Benjamin Clarke conveyed some 9 acres of land on the northeasterly side of Stony Brook to Richard Stockton and others to build a meeting house and cemetery for the Society of Friends. That same year, a small building was constructed and it became the first house of worship in Princeton (the settlement was still named Stony Brook at this point). Though replaced in 1760 by a more permanent building, it was important at the time both to the people who met and worshipped there as well as a symbol of organization.

The settlement grew, not rapidly but steadily. According to an entry in a family journal of Nathaniel Fitz Randolph in 1758, "Princeton first named at the raising of the first house built there by James Leonard, A.D. 1724. Whitehead Leonard the first child born in Princeton, 1725." Where the name came from was long debated. It has generally been attributed to William Prince of Orange, whose memory was cherished by many as a beloved prince in the midst of persecution.

The name has also been credited with ample logic, to a natural progression as there were nearby villages already established bearing the names "Kingstown" and "Queens Town."

The former reason remains somewhat more in favor, likely because of our age-old fondness for men of legend.

This fine home is located on a cul-de-sac in West Windsor Township. Just two years old, it has 8 rooms (4 bedrooms), 2½ baths, fireplace, central air, basement, and 2-car garage. Superb condition, with many custom features $74,500

Sherbrooke Colonial has 8 rooms, 2½ baths, fireplace, central air, basement, and 2-car garage. Move in immediately $72,500

Overlooking a golf course and on a cul-de-sac, this eight-room, 2½ bath Colonial has two of the most desired location amenities. Many additional features and in excellent condition. $78,500

Gracious Colonial on a Princeton Township cul-de-sac. Classic center hall design with beautiful appointments. A delightful combination of charm and convenience designed for low maintenance. $127,500

Here is a handsome Colonial on a quiet street in a fine nearby South Brunswick Township neighborhood. Tennis courts are within walking distance. The house has 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, fireplace, and central air. $74,500

Excellent 19-year old home in Hopewell Borough has two unusually fine apartments. Modern and including such features as a 2-car garage, it is ideal as either an investment property or for owner-occupancy $69,500

An excellent buy today and one which will be even more appreciated when summer comes. It offers 9 rooms, 2½ baths, 2-car garage, plus an in-ground pool, surrounded by mature landscaping. Quiet street in a convenient West Windsor neighborhood. $65,900
